Maintainer Halts Train After Operator Dies

A dealth resulting from a heart attack nearly caused an accident on the Rock Island Railroad late Thursday afternoon.

Fred Severin, 65, of Hallam, county road maintainer driver, apparently suffered a heart attack as he drove the vehicle toward the garage, 300 feet east of the Rock Island tracks at Hallam, Acting Coroner Les Hasson reported.

The maintainer veered and ended up on the tracks. Severin was found dead in the vehicle by Dean Albers and Dick Miller, both of Hallam, who chanced upon the accident.

The pair summoned the Hallam depot agent who flagged the approaching Rock Island train. The train was able to stop in time to avoid a collision.

The Rock Island Agent at Hallam said the train was delayed for 40 minutes before the track could be cleared of the obstruction. Residents of the area managed to pull the maintainer off the tracks with the use of tractors.

Severin had worked for Lancaster County for 32 years.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel; a son, Glenn of Crete; and three daughters, Mrs. Lavona Thorson of Newton, Ia., Mrs. Norma Jean Haas of Lincoln, and Mary Jo, at home.

The emergency stop for the Rock Island train was the third on that line in Lancaster County in the last 10 days. The Rock Island Rocket was forced to come to a fast stop on the night of Aug. 23 when a car became stalled on the tracks south of Lincoln. Earlier this week, a Rock Island freight collided with a truck on the tracks at 27th and Pioneer in Lincoln.

82 Killed 74 Hurt In Rail Crash

Philippine Log Train Piles Up

MANILA, (Friday) (AP)—At least 82 persons were killed and 74 seriously injured yesterday when a logging train went out of control on a down-grade, the Philippine News Service reported today.

The agency said rescue crews still were digging bodies out from underneath huge logs that crushed and mangled them.

Men, women and children were smashed by the huge logs, or sent tumbling 100 feet over a bridge into a rocky gorge below. They were passengers on empty flatcars, riding ahead of the train's freight.

The Manila Times correspondent at Bacolod on Negros Island said the death toll "might reach 100 or more."

The tragedy occurred in the southern Philippines between the towns of Fabrica and Sagay on the northern tip of Negros Island.

Couplings Snapped

Pablo Villarete, 46, engineer of the train, said he was approaching a downgrade curve near a lumber camp when the couplings snapped.

The engine leaped ahead down the track. Then, when the engineer applied full brakes, 23 loaded flatcars smashed into the engine and piled it into a bridge. The logs tore loose and crashed into the terrified passengers. Sixteen cars were derailed and plummeted 100 feet to the rocks below.

Many persons were reported crushed beneath the logs in the gorge. Half the bridge was demolished.

The train, owned by the Insular Lumber Co., was carrying employes and their wives and children.

Heintze Picked In Treasurer's Race

OMAHA (AP)—The Douglas County Republican Central Committee decided Thursday night that State Treasurer Frank Heintze will replace the late Carl W. Jensen on the November ballot as the party's choice for county treasurer. Jensen, the incumbent who died while vacationing in California, defeated Heintze for the nomination in the primary election. There will be two terms—the regular one and the short one before the person elected to the regular term takes office. Heintze will run for the regular term and Mrs. Carl W. Jensen was named to run for the short term.

Lawrence Brock Is State Demo Head

Wakefield Cattle Feeder Wins Over Jesse Tepner By 168-107 Vote

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

HASTINGS, Neb. — Lawrence Brock, Wakefield cattle feeder and farmer, Thursday was elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee by unanimous vote following a run-off with Jesse Tepner of Creighton.

On the first ballot, Brock had 168 votes to 107 for Tepner. The convention was marked by harmony efforts that left bystanders thinking the meeting was one of confusion. All factions within the party seemed determined to present a united front in the fall campaign.

Chairman Brock, in accepting the nomination, stated, "My only thought will be to deal fairly and honestly with Democrats in all parts of the state. I did not seek this post, but now that you have selected me I will do the best job I know how.

"Our only fight, between now and the November elections, will be centered on the Republican Party."

Evidence of the harmony was shown just prior to the voting when several delegations desired to ask questions of the nominees. After Brock gave his views to the Lancaster County delegation, he volunteered to go and get his opponent and give him equal opportunity to address the group.

Meeting Planned

Brock announced plans to call a meeting of the state central committee in about two weeks in Lincoln at which time he will announce his recommendations for other officers for confirmation. He plans to stress organization with a year-around state office and paid secretary ultimately.

The Wakefield cattle feeder was Dixon County chairman for 14 years and prominently mentioned as a candidate for Congress in the Third district. He succeeds William H. Meier, Minden, who resigned to become the nominee for the short-short U. S. Senate term.

James Green, Omaha, nominee for the four-year U. S. Senate term, in his keynote address discussed the farm situation.

Nebraska, along with the Dakotas, Kansas, and Iowa, were the agricultural states making up the cornerstone upon which Republican victory in 1952 was built, Green said.

"Do you remember how your friends who are Republicans rejoiced when that victory was won?" Green asked.

"Are they really rejoicing now? What have been the rewards of victory? Or have the farmers of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota, and North Dakota been victorious? What have they really won?

'Lower Price, Higher Cost'

"They have won lower prices for the food and fiber they produce, and they have won the opportunity to pay more than ever before for the things they buy. Isn't it a strange contrast that the farmer receives less and yet both he and the city dwellers pay more for what the farmer has produced? And while the farmer gets less and pays more, a cynical plot represents to his neighbor in the city that he pays more at the grocery counter because of the high farm price structure.

"Why this effort to divide the city from the farm: Why this effort to make the interests of the wage earner who buys and the farmer who produces antagonistic to one another?" Green asked.

"The Republican political strategists believe they can have their farmer and beat him too," Green added.

Farmer Will Pay

"The payments for the victory in the east are going to come from the pocket book of the farmer in the middle west.

"According to this line of thinking, Nebraskans that continue to vote Republican will, as Adlai Stevenson said, continue to feed the hand that bites them," Green continued.

Because political expediency dictates, Green said, the "golden promise" of Kasson, Minn. is forgotten.

"Economically, the Benson plan is wrong. The only question remaining is whether politically it is wise. That answer must be given at the polling places. Then and there, Nebraska city dwellers and farm dwellers alike will answer the question 'Can Benson beat them and have them too,'" Green concluded.

Ritchie Speaks

In an address delivered at the afternoon session, Gubernatorial Candidate William Ritchie declared:

"After 14 years of Republican incompetent rule, the Democrats of Nebraska stand ready to make a clean sweep of the statehouse at Lincoln. The tax tragedy in Nebraska has finally worked to its ultimate conclusion with the people suffering from oppressive taxation and some of them losing their homes and farms because of their inability to meet the tax burden imposed upon them by Republican misrule."

The candidate proposed adoption of an "added value tax" to take the place of a property tax for state purposes. The base of the added value tax, he explained, is the price of goods and services sold minus the cost of goods and services purchased. It is the value added to raw materials by any firm or person working on them, he said.

Legion Demands Strong Hand Against Commies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion wound up its 36th annual convention Thursday with demands for a strong hand against communism at home and abroad, and elected a new national commander who pledged to keep up the fight.

Seaborn P. Collins Jr., of Las Cruces, N.M., the unanimous choice for commander, declared in his acceptance speech:

"The American Legion is the object of bitter Communist hatred and in a sense this hatred is a measure of our success."

An unrelenting fight against Communist infiltration and subversion in the United States, Collins said, is one of the Legion's vitally important activities.

Of the five new vice commanders elected, three are World War II veterans. They are Robert Shelby, of Salt Lake City, Utah; Howard C. Kingdon of Conneaut, O., and Patrick H. Nangan Jr., of Brattleboro, Vt.

Another, Dr. Carl J. Reese of Newark, Del., served in both world wars and only one, Leonard Jackson, 57-year-old Clarks, La., postmaster, served solely in World War I.

The Rev. Albert J. Hoffman, of Dubuque, Ia., another World War II veteran, was elected national chaplain. He is professor of religion and Spanish at Loras College in Dubuque.

The new commander, a businessman who flew the "Hump" of the Himalaya Mountains in World War II, also said his administration would push programs for medical and hospital care for veterans, child welfare services and a universal military training system.

In one of its resolutions, the Legion convention called for a U.S. warning that any further Communist aggression in Southeast Asia "will bring forth immediate military retaliation with or without the cooperation of the other free nations."

Right down to the end, the convention ground out anti-Communist resolutions. Among the late ones:

That Congress should enlarge the definition of treason so as to include peacetime conspiracy to overthrow the government and make it punishable by penalties up to execution.

That Congress subpoena and publish the names of contributors to Communist front organizations.

That the Justice Department be given authority to use wire-tapping evidence in disloyalty and treason cases, and that it expedite the deportation of criminal aliens.

That security and employment be given to diplomats and agents who leave their Communist masters and escape to America.

Briton Urges Mao Help Free Russ Satellites

First Report On 18 Days Behind Bamboo Curtain Of Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee said Thursday he tossed the ball back to Mao Tze-tung when the Red Chinese boss urged him to campaign for a new U. S. foreign policy. Attlee told a news conference he advised Mao to get the Russians to mend their ways.

In his first report on 18 days behind the Bamboo Curtain with seven other touring British Laborites, Attlee declared he suggested Mao use his influence to stop Soviet infiltration of other nations.

When Mao asked him to try to persuade the United States to pull out of the Formosa straits and stop rearming Germany and Japan, Attlee said he countered that Mao should try to get the Soviet Union to free her satellite states. He also told Mao to work for a reduction in Soviet arms and greater freedom for Soviet citizens.

No Promises Made

Neither he nor Mao made any promises to do anything about the proposals each advanced, Attlee reported.

The Labor party delegation arrived Wednesday from its Chinese tour. It spent three days previously in Moscow. All except Attlee went on to Tokyo for a three-day visit en route home. Attlee will remain here until Saturday, then fly to Singapore and Australia.

The Seattle World Affairs Council invited Attlee to make a speech there on the way back. But the Laborite leader sent his regrets, saying he must meet his wife in Singapore, keep his Australian engagements and return directly to Britain.

His Observations

Attlee gave these observations on Red China:

Contrast with Russia — "There is less rigidity in China than in Russia." Chinese Communism is more tolerant than the Soviet variety, with the Peiping regime using more care in absorbing businesses and farms.

"They (the Chinese) admit they have a great deal to do yet and that there are many shortcomings. In Russia they tell you the world world is inferior to Russia, and things Russian are the best. I heard no such boasting in China."

Formosa — Chinese Red leaders drop their talk of peace when they discuss Formosa. Sentiment for taking Formosa runs high. To the Chinese Reds a peaceful settlement of the Formosa question means peaceful surrender.

Mao Attlee

Chinese dependence on Russia—There is evidence Peiping leans heavily on Russia for supplies, but Attlee found "no overt examples of Russian influence inside China."

Restrictions — Freedom is restricted, including freedom of speech and thought. The trade union movement in Red China serves as an instrument of the Communist regime.

Red achievements — "We found China run by the Communist party on principles on which we do not agree. We tried to understand their point of view and we drew certain conclusions. One was that the Communists are making great reforms in China, and this is a new departure in government in that nation.

"We found the government incorruptible. We were impressed with the remarkable work in public health and especially with their antifly campaign."

Missionaries—Antipathy to foreign missionaries is more nationalistic than Communistic. He saw some representations of the church movement in Red China.

They Want To Trade

Trade—The Peiping regime wants to trade with the West. There were no detailed discussions, since the Laborite group was not a trade mission.

Attlee said he did not specifically take up the question of American prisoners in China, but did argue in a general discussion that it was a mistake to hold people against their will.

On the whole, Attlee said, he found Red China about what he expected and did not encounter excessive "eyewash." This was a reference to his statement in London before his departure that he was an expert on eyewash and would not be fooled by conducted tours, false statistics and unsubstantiated claims.

Wakefield Cattle Feeder Wins Over Jesse Tepner By 168-107 Vote

HASTINGS, Neb. — Lawrence Brock, Wakefield cattle feeder and farmer, Thursday was elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee by unanimous vote following a run-off with Jesse Tepner of Creighton.

On the first ballot, Brock had 168 votes to 107 for Tepner. The convention was marked by harmony efforts that left bystanders thinking the meeting was one of confusion. All factions within the party seemed determined to present a united front in the fall campaign.

Evidence of the harmony was shown just prior to the voting when several delegations desired to ask questions of the nominees. After Brock gave his views to the Lancaster County delegation, he volunteered to go and get his opponent and give him equal opportunity to address the group.

MANILA, (Friday) (AP)—At least 82 persons were killed and 74 seriously injured yesterday when a logging train went out of control on a down-grade, the Philippine News Service reported today.

The agency said rescue crews still were digging bodies out from underneath huge logs that crushed and mangled them.

Men, women and children were smashed by the huge logs, or sent tumbling 100 feet over a bridge into a rocky gorge below. They were passengers on empty flatcars, riding ahead of the train's freight.

The engine leaped ahead down the track. Then, when the engineer applied full brakes, 23 loaded flatcars smashed into the engine and piled it into a bridge. The logs tore loose and crashed into the terrified passengers. Sixteen cars were derailed and plummeted 100 feet to the rocks below.

Legion Demands Strong Hand Against Commies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion wound up its 36th annual convention Thursday with demands for a strong hand against communism at home and abroad, and elected a new national commander who pledged to keep up the fight.

Seaborn P. Collins Jr., of Las Cruces, N.M., the unanimous choice for commander, declared in his acceptance speech:

"The American Legion is the object of bitter Communist hatred and in a sense this hatred is a measure of our success."

An unrelenting fight against Communist infiltration and subversion in the United States, Collins said, is one of the Legion's vitally important activities.

Of the five new vice commanders elected, three are World War II veterans. They are Robert Shelby, of Salt Lake City, Utah; Howard C. Kingdon of Conneaut, O., and Patrick H. Nangan Jr., of Brattleboro, Vt.

Another, Dr. Carl J. Reese of Newark, Del., served in both world wars and only one, Leonard Jackson, 57-year-old Clarks, La., postmaster, served solely in World War I.

The Rev. Albert J. Hoffman, of Dubuque, Ia., another World War II veteran, was elected national chaplain. He is professor of religion and Spanish at Loras College in Dubuque.

The new commander, a businessman who flew the "Hump" of the Himalaya Mountains in World War II, also said his administration would push programs for medical and hospital care for veterans, child welfare services and a universal military training system.

In one of its resolutions, the Legion convention called for a U.S. warning that any further Communist aggression in Southeast Asia "will bring forth immediate military retaliation with or without the cooperation of the other free nations."

Right down to the end, the convention ground out anti-Communist resolutions. Among the late ones:

That Congress should enlarge the definition of treason so as to include peacetime conspiracy to overthrow the government and make it punishable by penalties up to execution.

That Congress subpoena and publish the names of contributors to Communist front organizations.

That the Justice Department be given authority to use wire-tapping evidence in disloyalty and treason cases, and that it expedite the deportation of criminal aliens.

That security and employment be given to diplomats and agents who leave their Communist masters and escape to America.

Briton Urges Mao Help Free Russ Satellites

First Report On 18 Days Behind Bamboo Curtain Of Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee said Thursday he tossed the ball back to Mao Tze-tung when the Red Chinese boss urged him to campaign for a new U. S. foreign policy. Attlee told a news conference he advised Mao to get the Russians to mend their ways.

In his first report on 18 days behind the Bamboo Curtain with seven other touring British Laborites, Attlee declared he suggested Mao use his influence to stop Soviet infiltration of other nations.

Mao

Attlee

When Mao asked him to try to persuade the United States to pull out of the Formosa straits and stop rearming Germany and Japan, Attlee said he countered that Mao should try to get the Soviet Union to free her satellite states. He also told Mao to work for a reduction in Soviet arms and greater freedom for Soviet citizens.

No Promises Made

Neither he nor Mao made any promises to do anything about the proposals each advanced, Attlee reported.

The Labor party delegation arrived Wednesday from its Chinese tour. It spent three days previously in Moscow. All except Attlee went on to Tokyo for a three-day visit en route home. Attlee will remain here until Saturday, then fly to Singapore and Australia.

The Seattle World Affairs Council invited Attlee to make a speech there on the way back. But the Laborite leader sent his regrets, saying he must meet his wife in Singapore, keep his Australian engagements and return directly to Britain.

His Observations

Attlee gave these observations on Red China:

Contrast with Russia — "There is less rigidity in China than in Russia." Chinese Communism is more tolerant than the Soviet variety, with the Peiping regime using more care in absorbing businesses and farms.

"They (the Chinese) admit they have a great deal to do yet and that there are many shortcomings. In Russia they tell you the world world is inferior to Russia, and things Russian are the best. I heard no such boasting in China."

Formosa — Chinese Red leaders drop their talk of peace when they discuss Formosa. Sentiment for taking Formosa runs high. To the Chinese Reds a peaceful settlement of the Formosa question means peaceful surrender.

Chinese dependence on Russia—There is evidence Peiping leans heavily on Russia for supplies, but Attlee found "no overt examples of Russian influence inside China."

Restrictions — Freedom is restricted, including freedom of speech and thought. The trade union movement in Red China serves as an instrument of the Communist regime.

Red achievements — "We found China run by the Communist party on principles on which we do not agree. We tried to understand their point of view and we drew certain conclusions. One was that the Communists are making great reforms in China, and this is a new departure in government in that nation.

"We found the government incorruptible. We were impressed with the remarkable work in public health and especially with their antifly campaign."

Missionaries—Antipathy to foreign missionaries is more nationalistic than Communistic. He saw some representations of the church movement in Red China.

They Want To Trade

Trade—The Peiping regime wants to trade with the West. There were no detailed discussions, since the Laborite group was not a trade mission.

Attlee said he did not specifically take up the question of American prisoners in China, but did argue in a general discussion that it was a mistake to hold people against their will.

On the whole, Attlee said, he found Red China about what he expected and did not encounter excessive "eyewash." This was a reference to his statement in London before his departure that he was an expert on eyewash and would not be fooled by conducted tours, false statistics and unsubstantiated claims.

Sen. McCarthy's Reply Awaited

Joe Takes A Potshot At Chairman Watkins As Committee Recesses Until Tuesday

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's newest investigation of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) recessed for a long Labor Day weekend Thursday with the committee's main body of evidence all in on five groups of censure charges against the Wisconsin senator

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) called a halt until Tuesday after the six-member committee heard—in a ghostly echo of the stormy McCarthy-Army probe — evidence on charges that McCarthy might have broken the espionage law by accepting secret FBI material.

"The whole field is open yet," Watkins told reporters. "We haven't closed the door on anything."

He indicated, however, the committee will hear at the most only a little more evidence, taking only part of Tuesday, before giving McCarthy a chance to answer the charges which have been explored in three days of an unusually speedy hearing.

Report Studied

The chairman said the committee staff is studying the Army-McCarthy report which was made public last Tuesday. And he said he doesn't know what other matters may come up until the staff finishes its study of this report and ~~certain other matters~~.

Outside the hearing room, McCarthy continued to question the impartiality of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), who stood by his statement that he can serve without bias as vice chairman of the select committee whatever he may have said on the subject of McCarthy in the past.

McCarthy also took a potshot at Watkins. He said the chairman told a television audience Wednesday night it was "unimportant if some members of the committee were prejudiced." McCarthy called this an "amazing" point of view and said it violates all rules of judicial procedure.

Wants No Controversy

"I don't think I said that at all," Watkins commented. He refused to go into the matter further with reporters, saying he wasn't going to get into a controversy with McCarthy on television or anywhere else.

Virtually all of Thursday's session was devoted to reading into the record large chunks of transcript of the McCarthy-Army hearings, bearing on two of the five groups of charges made against McCarthy by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) and two other senators.

The two explored Thursday: That McCarthy urged federal workers to break the law by passing him secret material, and that he may have violated the espionage law himself by accepting a summary of an FBI report relating to a search for alleged espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, told newsmen: "We'll be ready to go on Tuesday with our defense."

He declined to say what the defense will be — said he didn't know himself at this point.

Documents Received

Besides the charges under examination Thursday, the committee has received evidence—almost all in the form of documents—on three other groups of charges winnowed from 46 allegations made against McCarthy by Flanders and Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore).

The earlier charges accuse McCarthy of 1. Insulting Senate colleagues, 2. failing to testify before a 1952 subcommittee which investigaged his finances, and 3. abusing Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker when the general was before McCarthy's Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

The Watkins committee is supposed to make a report in time for the Senate, which is in recess, to come back and vote on the censure resolution before the Nov. 2 election.

Ike Vetoes 'Non-U.S.' Trout Bill

President, Hoover Wind Up Fishing

FRASER, Colo. (INS)—President Eisenhower vetoed the "un-American Trout" bill Thursday as he wound up three days of trout fishing in the Rocky mountains with Herbert Hoover.

The bill designed to protect the domestic trout industry would have required restaurants serving imported trout to post signs showing what country the fish came from.

Mr. Eisenhower said the law would cost too much to enforce and would place an unfair restriction on foreign trade—besides being unnecessary to begin with.

After vetoing the bill, the President waded into icy St. Louis Creek with the 80-year-old Hoover in a final effort to fill his creel with the Rocky Mountain Rainbows whose proud name was one of the chief issues in the proposed law.

Domestic trout producers complain that imported trout are often served to restaurant patrons as Rocky Mountain Rainbows or under other descriptive names indicating their domestic origin.

Enough Laws

Mr. Eisenhower said there are already enough federal laws on the books to prevent such deception and asserted the bill would have invaded a field of law-enforcement properly left to states and localities.

It was also announced that Mr. Eisenhower has signed the bill extending unemployment insurance to four million additional workers, including two million federal employees.

The President expressed the hope that state legislatures would follow up the bill by providing increased jobless benefits and authorizing participation in the program by employees of state and local governments.

Mr. Eisenhower signed two more bills and vetoed a total of three at his fishing retreat Thursday, leaving him only 20 more to go out of the 513 he took along on his work-and-play Colorado vacation. He has signed 473 of the huge pile of bills dumped on his desk when Congress adjourned, vetoing 20 others.

He and Mr. Hoover motored back across the Continental Divide to Denver, ending three days of fishing and roughing it at the rustic Byer's Peak Ranch tucked beneath the towering Rockies.

'Intimate' Question Snarls Court

The contested divorce trial of TV actress Helen Parrish (center) was continued Thursday with the court arguing the permissability of witness Muzzi Marcellino (right) to refuse to answer a question as to whether he had ever had intimate relations with Miss Parrish. Bandleader Marcellino admits kissing Miss Parrish, an action which started "a week of hell" for her in her home relations with husband Charles G. Lang Jr. (left). (UP Telephoto.)

Secret Testimony

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (INS) — The court room at Fort Sam Houston in which Cpl Claude Batchelor is being court martialed was emptied of spectators and newsmen Thursday for the admission of what was termed classified testimony

Batchelor is charged with disloyal conduct while a prisoner of war in North Korea. Meanwhile, it was announced that Edward Dickenson, 22, of Crackers Neck Va., a former corporal, will be flown to Fort Sam Houson from the New Cumberland, Pa., Army disciplinary barracks to be a witness. He is serving a 10-year sentence after being convicted on charges similar to those Batchelor faces.

Three special Army mortuary trains will carry the bodies of American and U. N soldiers, long buried in North Korean soil, to Pusan From that port they will travel by boat to Kokura, Japan, for positive identification at the Army's quartermaster graves registration laboratory.

Block Sought

Airing Planned

NEW YORK, (INS) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y), said he intended to air the controversial Dixon-Yates contract to supply electric power to the TVA at the next session of Congress.

Celler said most of the TVA board members "bitterly complained that they cannot see the terms of the Dixon-Yates contract which they in turn are supposed to sign. They are only shown exerpts." The New York congressman said the whole country should be allowed to see what he described as the "sweet" terms of the contract.

Truth Impossible

NEW YORK (AP) — Radio and television inspire witnesses to "put on an act," making it impossible to get at the truth, Federal Judge Harold R Medina said Thursday night.

Medina, who presided over the marathon trial of 11 Communist leaders replied to a public demand by CBS President Frank Stanton that radio and television be allowed to cover the current Senate hearings against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Probe Speeded

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government stepped up its newly-revived probe of alleged tax scandals under the Truman administration Thursday with the announcement of two new Grand Jury investigations in the New York area.

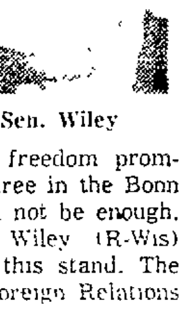
Bonn's Terms Hiked

Limited Freedom Which Big 3 Promised Is Not Enough, Adenauer Says

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany raised her terms Thursday for contributing to the Western military alliance by demanding "full and undiminished" sovereignty



Sen. Wiley

Freed to barter with the West over Germany's future defense role by France's rejection of the six-nation army plan, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government served notice the limited freedom promised by the Big Three in the Bonn peace contract will not be enough.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) voiced support of this stand. The chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the U S Senate who conferred with Adenauer at the Chancellor's vacation retreat in the Black Forest, told newsmen, "West Germany must have full sovereignty restored forthwith."

Gives Full Approval

Wiley, whose committee will have to approve any formal treaty settlement between the United States and West Germany, said "freedom and liberty require West Germany to march shoulder to shoulder with the free nations."

In London, British officials said privately the West German demands for full equality status stand little chance of early Allied acceptance. The British Foreign Office declined formal comment.

Other developments Thursday in the continuing reaction to the French move included:

1. In Washington, top U.S. officials tended to favor an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers in New York late this month to seek agreement on West Germany's role in Western defense

Conference Favored

2. In Paris, a French Foreign Ministry spokesman welcomed a British suggestion for an eight-power conference on German rearmament to lay the groundwork for the NATO Council. The eight would be the United States, Britain, and the six signers of the EDC treaty — West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

Slight Enrollment Increase Seen For U Of N This Year

A slight increase, not to exceed 5 per cent, in the first semester enrollment at the University of Nebraska was predicted Friday by Dr. George W. Roselof, dean of admissions. He expects nearly 7,000 students, compared with 6,770 last year.

He based his prediction on number of applications being accepted by the University. As of this week, applications are running nearly 3 per cent more than last year at this time.

Dr. Rosenlof noted that there was a slight decline in the enrollment of freshman women students this year. To date 461 have enrolled, compared with 548 at this time last year.

He said no explanation had been found for the decrease.

The University has accepted 1,941 applications, compared with 1,889 in 1953. The College of Engineering and Architecture reported the largest number, 444, which is an increase of 62 over last year.

Transfer students have increased 27 per cent but the total number of freshmen is down one per cent, Dr. Rosenlof pointed out. "However," he said, "classes will begin this year on Sept. 20, a week later than last year, and more applications are expected."

The 1954 application list is the largest since the peak-enrollment year of 1949, when 2,216 applications were received.

Nebraska Wesleyan University and Union College also expect slight increases in their enrollment.

Wesleyan expects slightly more than the 650 enrolled last year. Classes will open Sept. 8, with registration continuing through the next week.

Union College expects about 760 students this year, in comparison with 709 registered last year. Registration will be Sept. 12 and 13 with classes opening Sept. 16.

Jap H-Blast Victim Still Unconscious

TOKYO (Friday), (AP) — Doctors said today the Japanese fisherman caught in a radiation shower near Bikini last March remained unconscious and in dangerous condition here.

Aikichi Kuboyama, one of 23 fishermen aboard the Japanese boat Lucky Dragon at the time of a U. S. hydrogen explosion, is suffering from jaundice which doctors said was brought on by radiation.

His case has brought renewed criticism of the United States by Japanese newspapers and some government officials.

Virtually all of Thursday's session was devoted to reading into the record large chunks of transcript of the McCarthy-Army hearings, bearing on two of the five groups of charges made against McCarthy by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) and two other senators.

The two explored Thursday: That McCarthy urged federal workers to break the law by passing him secret material, and that he may have violated the espionage law himself by accepting a summary of an FBI report relating to a search for alleged espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, told newsmen: "We'll be ready to go on Tuesday with our defense."

He declined to say what the defense will be — said he didn't know himself at this point.

Documents Received

Besides the charges under examination Thursday, the committee has received evidence—almost all in the form of documents—on three other groups of charges winnowed from 46 allegations made against McCarthy by Flanders and Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore).

The earlier charges accuse McCarthy of 1. Insulting Senate colleagues, 2. failing to testify before a 1952 subcommittee which investigated his finances, and 3. abusing Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker when the general was before McCarthy's Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

The Watkins committee is supposed to make a report in time for the Senate, which is in recess, to come back and vote on the censure resolution before the Nov. 2 election.

Ike Vetoes 'Non-U.S.' Trout Bill

President, Hoover Wind Up Fishing

FRASER, Colo. (INS)—President Eisenhower vetoed the "un-American Trout" bill Thursday as he wound up three days of trout fishing in the Rocky mountains with Herbert Hoover.

The bill designed to protect the domestic trout industry would have required restaurants serving imported trout to post signs showing what country the fish came from.

Mr. Eisenhower said the law would cost too much to enforce and wound place an unfair restriction on foreign trade—besides being unnecessary to begin with.

After vetoing the bill, the President waded into icy St. Louis Creek with the 80-year-old Hoover in a final effort to fill his creel with the Rocky Mountain Rainbows whose proud name was one of the chief issues in the proposed law.

Domestic trout producers complain that imported trout are often served to restaurant patrons as Rocky Mountain Rainbows or under other descriptive names indicating their domestic origin.

Enough Laws

Mr. Eisenhower said there are already enough federal laws on the books to prevent such deception and asserted the bill would have invaded a field of law-enforcement properly left to states and localities.

It was also announced that Mr. Eisenhower has signed the bill extending unemployment insurance to four million additional workers, including two million federal employees.

The President expressed the hope that state legislatures would follow up the bill by providing increased jobless benefits and authorizing participation in the program by employees of state and local governments.

Mr. Eisenhower signed two more bills and vetoed a total of three at his fishing retreat Thursday, leaving him only 20 more to go out of the 513 he took along on his work-and-play Colorado vacation. He has signed 473 of the huge pile of bills dumped on his desk when Congress adjourned, vetoing 20 others.

He and Mr. Hoover motored back across the Continental Divide to Denver, ending three days of fishing and roughing it at the rustic Byer's Peak Ranch tucked beneath the towering Rockies.

'Intimate' Question Snarls Court

The contested divorce trial of TV actress Helen Parrish (center) was continued Thursday with the court arguing the permissability of witness Muzzi Marcellino (right) to refuse to answer a question as to whether he had ever had intimate relations with Miss Parrish. Bandleader Marcellino admits kissing Miss Parrish, an action which started "a week of hell" for her in her home relations with husband Charles G. Lang Jr. (left.). (UP Telephoto.)

News Around The Globe

Secret Testimony

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (INS) — The court room at Fort Sam Houston in which Cpl. Claude Batchelor is being court martialed was emptied of spectators and newsmen Thursday for the admission of what was termed classified testimony.

Batchelor is charged with disloyal conduct while a prisoner of war in North Korea. Meanwhile, it was announced that Edward Dickenson, 22, of Crackers Neck Va., a former corporal, will be flown to Fort Sam Houson from the New Cumberland, Pa., Army disciplinary barracks to be a witness. He is serving a 10-year sentence after being convicted on charges similar to those Batchelor faces.

Journey Home

MUSAN, Korea (Friday) (INS)—The remains of 550 Allied war dead start the long journey home today from the edge of the armistice zone dividing Korea.

Three special Army mortuary trains will carry the bodies of American and U. N. soldiers, long buried in North Korean soil, to Pusan. From that port they will travel by boat to Kokura, Japan, for positive identification at the Army's quartermaster graves registration laboratory.

Block Sought

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill. (INS)—Defense attorneys for Lt. Col. Harry Fleming charged with collaborating with his Communist captors in a North Korea prison camp, sought Thursday to block the admission of monitored records at his court-martial.

Army lawyers contend that the recordings of reputed broadcasts made over the Pyongyang, North Korea, radio show that Fleming aided Red propaganda programs while a prisoner of war from 1950 to 1953.

Airing Planned

NEW YORK, (INS) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y), said he intended to air the controversial Dixon-Yates contract to supply electric power to the TVA at the next session of Congress.

Celler said most of the TVA board members "bitterly complained that they cannot see the terms of the Dixon-Yates contract which they in turn are supposed to sign. They are only shown exerpts." The New York congressman said the whole country should be allowed to see what he described as the "sweet" terms of the contract.

Truth Impossible

NEW YORK (AP) — Radio and television inspire witnesses to "put on an act," making it impossible to get at the truth, Federal Judge Harold R. Medina said Thursday night.

Medina, who presided over the marathon trial of 11 Communist leaders, replied to a public demand by CBS President Frank Stanton that radio and television be allowed to cover the current Senate hearings against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Probe Speeded

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government stepped up its newly-revived probe of alleged tax scandals under the Truman administration Thursday with the announcement of two new Grand Jury investigations in the New York area.

Plot Suspected

MANILA (Friday) —(INS) — Philippine authorities arrested two men in connection with a suspected Communist plot to sabotage the Southeast Asia Treaty organization conference opening in Manila Monday.

The suspects, a Korean and a Filipino foreign office employe, were taken into custody while an advance group of representatives from the eight participating nations neared completion of the groundwork for next week's parley.

Freedom Hinted

TOKYO (Friday) (AP)—The leader of a group of visiting British Labor party members indicated today that two American correspondents seized by the Communists off Hong Kong in 1953 will be released shortly.

Morgan Phillips, secretary general of the Labor party, said former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee discussed the two men with Chinese leaders during the visit of the Britons to Red China.

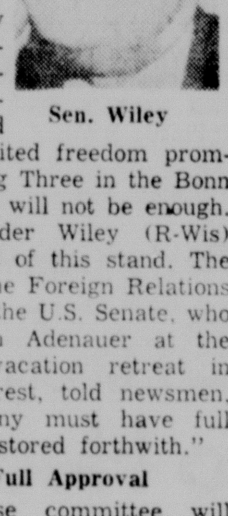
Bonn's Terms Hiked

Limited Freedom Which Big 3 Promised Is Not Enough, Adenauer Says

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany raised her terms Thursday for contributing to the Western military alliance by demanding "full and undiminished" sovereignty.



Sen. Wiley

Freed to barter with the West over Germany's future defense role by France's rejection of the six-nation army plan, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government served notice the limited freedom promised by the Big Three in the Bonn peace contract will not be enough.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) voiced support of this stand. The chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the U.S. Senate, who conferred with Adenauer at the Chancellor's vacation retreat in the Black Forest, told newsmen, "West Germany must have full sovereignty restored forthwith."

Gives Full Approval

Wiley, whose committee will have to approve any formal treaty settlement between the United States and West Germany, said "freedom and liberty require West Germany to march shoulder to shoulder with the free nations."

In London, British officials said privately the West German demands for full equality status stand little chance of early Allied acceptance. The British Foreign Office declined formal comment.

Other developments Thursday in the continuing reaction to the French move included:

1. In Washington, top U.S. officials tended to favor an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers in New York late this month to seek agreement on West Germany's role in Western defense.

Conference Favored

2. In Paris, a French Foreign Ministry spokesman welcomed a British suggestion for an eight-power conference on German rearmament to lay the groundwork for the NATO Council. The eight would be the United States, Britain, and the six signers of the EDC treaty — West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

Slight Enrollment Increase Seen For U Of N This Year

A slight increase, not to exceed 5 per cent, in the first semester enrollment at the University of Nebraska was predicted Friday by Dr. George W. Roselof, dean of admissions. He expects nearly 7,000 students, compared with 6,770 last year.

He based his prediction on number of applications being accepted by the University. As of this week, applications are running nearly 3 per cent more than last year at this time.

Dr. Rosenlof noted that there was a slight decline in the enrollment of freshman women students this year. To date 461 have enrolled, compared with 548 at this time last year.

He said no explanation had been found for the decrease.

The University has accepted 1,941 applications, compared with 1,889 in 1953. The College of Engineering and Architecture reported the largest number, 444, which is an increase of 62 over last year.

Transfer students have increased 27 per cent but the total number of freshmen is down one per cent, Dr. Rosenlof pointed out. "However," he said, "classes will begin this year on Sept. 20, a week later than last year, and more applications are expected."

The 1954 application list is the largest since the peak-enrollment year of 1949, when 2,216 applications were received.

Nebraska Wesleyan University and Union College also expect slight increases in their enrollment.

Wesleyan expects slightly more than the 650 enrolled last year. Classes will open Sept. 8, with registration continuing through the next week.

Union College expects about 760 students this year, in comparison with 709 registered last year. Registration will be Sept. 12 and 13 with classes opening Sept. 16.

Jap H-Blast Victim Still Unconscious

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — Doctors said today the Japanese fisherman caught in a radiation shower near Bikini last March remained unconscious and in dangerous condition here.

Aikichi Kuboyama, one of 23 fishermen aboard the Japanese boat Lucky Dragon at the time of a U. S. hydrogen explosion, is suffering from jaundice which doctors said was brought on by radiation.

His case has brought renewed criticism of the United States by Japanese newspapers and some government officials.

Nixon Quoted On McCarthy-Mitchell Comparison

. . . VP Cites 'Bellows, Bleats'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican National Committee official Thursday quoted Vice President Nixon as saying in effect that there is not much to choose between "the blasts" of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and "the drawing room innuendoes" of Stephen Mitchell, Democratic national chairman.

Nixon was said to have made the remarks to a closed session of the Republican National Committee in Cincinnati Wednesday night.

Another version of Nixon's remarks was given in a dispatch from Cincinnati to the Cleveland News. The dispatch, written by Thomas Vail, Cleveland News staff writer, said Nixon stated to the committee:

"I can't see much difference between the bellows of Sen. McCarthy and the bleats of Mitchell. In fact, Mitchell is using the McCarthy techniques."

'An Expert'

In another part of the speech, Nixon was said to have remarked: "If they (the voters) ask you about McCarthy, ask them about Mitchell."

Sen. McCarthy, asked for comment in Washington, said:

"I'm sure I don't like the comparison any better than Mitchell probably will."

At Taos, N. M., Mitchell said Nixon "is an expert on Senator McCarthy but I don't think he knows much about me."

Mitchell told a reporter:

"I thought when you mentioned Nixon's name you were going to tell me the Republicans were announcing another Nixon TV extravaganza to claim the Dixon-Yates deal for private exploitation of atomic power was white as snow.

"What was the name of Nixon's dog?"

'Liability'

Mitchell, on a brief vacation at his New Mexico ranch, said, "You can't figure out from this report whether Nixon and the other Republican leaders finally have decided that McCarthy is a liability to them."

Nixon could not be reached for comment immediately. His office in Washington referred inquiring reporters to James Bassett, public relations director of the Republican National Committee.

Bassett said of the quotation in the Cleveland News: "It is not an accurate quotation." However, he declined to make public a transcript of Nixon's remarks on the subject.

A Republican National Committee source, who said he had heard a playback of a transcription of Nixon's remarks but who declined to be quoted by name, said Nixon spoke of "the blasts of McCarthy and the drawing room innuendoes of Mitchell."

The source declined to give a reporter the full text of the sentence in which these words appeared. He said Nixon declared in effect there is not much to choose between McCarthy's "blasts" and Mitchell's "innuendoes." He also quoted Nixon as saying that Mitchell was indulging in the tactics that Mitchell accuses McCarthy of using.

Mitchell and the GOP have been exchanging pot shots, notably over an Eisenhower administration plan for a private power plant in Tennessee Valley territory. Mitchell has spoken of "corruption" and favoritism toward big business, while Republicans have accused him of smear tactics.

Their circus, which opened with a parade, included trapeze artists, games, a "fat lady," a clown, stuffed animals in cages and a live dog, cat and rabbit. (Star Photo.)

Deputies Query 'Rowdy' TeenGang

Five youths, in their late teens, were questioned and released by the Sheriff's night patrol following a Wednesday night incident, termed "largely rowdyism," at the Capitol Beach.

Three of the youths were airmen of the Lincoln Air Force Base, according to Sheriff's Deputies Robert Anderson and Frank Jacox.

Jacox said a couple of "switch knives" were taken from the group during an investigation.

The group reportedly numbered 12 to 15 teen-age boys when the patrol was called by a Capitol Beach official, but dispersed when the officers arrived.

Betting On The Ponies

It may mean little or nothing, or it could mean a great deal, but once again the evidence is at hand to establish the fact that Nebraskans are not averse to taking a flier when it comes to horse racing.

The 17-day program for the Nebraska State Fair races has just come to a close with a new record rung up at the pari-mutuel windows. The races covered a slightly longer period than heretofore, counting in part for the record that was established, but an aggregate of $2,933,688 was bet during that period of time.

We haven't the slightest notion that Nebraskans are going to change their habits when it comes to playing the ponies. They legalized pari-mutuel betting through the adoption of an amendment on that subject in 1935. Each year has seen an increase in the amount of money bet on the horse races, a contradiction in Nebraska's virtuous stand when it comes to gambling. Perhaps we like to be a little bit hypocritical, surely we frown in one direction and smile in another, but most of all the excuse that we have for legalizing gambling on the ponies and outlawing every other form of gambling is the fact that a part of the take at the pari-mutuel windows is devoted to worthwhile undertakings, including the fair itself which derives a very considerable financial support from the kitty.

Lets Get To The Facts

That subdued flurry of criticism aimed at President Eisenhower for his directive part in handing to the Dixon-Yates private power group a contract to produce and deliver power to TVA has slowed down.

No doubt the administration hopes the whole subject soon will be forgotten. Perhaps it will.

There is, seemingly, a quiet pressure to stifle any investigation of the matter coupled with the generation of a good many diversionary subjects. It is always good politics to get a hot subject channeled into one of the many sidings which lead away from the main track. The meadowlark tactics work as well in politics as for the lark.

But the matter should not be diverted. A President who has done no wrong deserves to be vindicated lest unjust doubt be allowed to live. And by the same measure an injudicious act, if one should be, ought to be corrected regardless of who may have participated in it.

So far all the public really knows about the Yates-Dixon matter is that a private combination got a contract to supply power to the TVA system and that the declared intention of the contract is to halt further expansion of TVA—which as a result of natural growth stemming from the immediate and overwhelming success of TVA has grown considerably larger than its first outlines. There can be arguments about TVA. But we doubt that, given the facts, the American people want to see it handicapped or crippled. Now the issue over the Dixon-Yates contract develops because two agencies directly interested in what is done—AEC and TVA—both expressed hostility to the step that has been taken.

There is a yardstick by which the Yates-Dixon deal can be judged. It will be found in the details of the contract. If the private group is to be the beneficiary of favor or preference, tax exemption, captive markets, sure or overabundant profits, unearned benefits at the expense of the public, then the facts can be determined by the terms of the contract itself.

There should be no unnecessary delay in producing the contract. The country is entitled to an opportunity to read it and to judge it. Let's have done with all this hearsay.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It appears by way of compensation for all the years of waiting that the people of Lincoln are going to get a superior auditorium, and get it complete well within the revenue available for the auditorium project. Which is to say that all is well that ends well. There have been times when the outlook was rather dismal. Now the new plans, tentative at this time, of course, but seemingly tailored to meet Lincoln's needs, have aroused the enthusiasm of the Council. It will be a happy day if after all the controversy which has taken place, the people of Lincoln find it possible to get going on the auditorium program.

Enders Dam and the reservoir back of it upon which President Eisenhower will gaze Saturday when he visits the Republican Valley were not the tentative site selected when initial, and most preliminary studies were made. That original site was farther upstream—a beautiful, natural canyon with magnificent capacity for storage. But when the time actually came for real action towards construction, it was discovered that the dam site was not so desirable as had been hoped. In much of the discussion of river basin development there is a disposition to ignore natural factors. We do not build dams—that is, big ones—simply for the pleasure of building a dam at a certain site. The topography must be right. Not only must the topography be right but huge cores driven deeply into the earth must come to rest upon solid footings. Enders is one of the many fine dams that represent a comprehensive program of development along the Republican and its tributaries. The Frenchman itself is a picturesque stream, small, it is true, with only an average daily flow of about 75 second-feet. But it is one of those rivers—and Nebraska is fortunate in having a number of them—where the flow is dependable and stable, varying little from month to month. It is one of the finer developments in the Republican program, magnificently conceived and magnificently executed. It will be a source of pride and a most helpful contributing factor to the economic life of that area.

There are Many Factors

A brief dispatch from Butler County tells of gratifying progress in the program of well irrigation. The abundant rainfall throughout August in many sections of Nebraska temporarily may have dampened interest in bringing more Nebraska acres under irrigation. If that is so, welcome as the rains were and in many instances contributing substantially to more farm income, then it would be unfortunate. Nebraska's greatest stability will be reached only when every drop of water is put to beneficial use.

We need more storage in this state. There is no profit in a blind protracted controversy over the best method of conserving Nebraska's most precious resource, water. There are arguments on both sides, arguments which lead only to confusion and which in the end tend to defeat Nebraska's best interests. There is a great job not only in this state but in all the 48 states of the Union yet to be performed. Every encouragement that can be given to rebuilding this nation's underground water table should be undertaken. It is not a matter peculiar to the Great North American Plains, of which Nebraska is a part. It deserves study from the eastern seaboard to the Pacific, where the same development is becoming increasingly impressive each year. This nation's underground water supplies are diminishing as the result of the great drain placed upon them. We need more dams and we need more storage, and most of all we need to conserve the enormous quantities of flood and waste water which flow to the sea.

Storage Wherever Possible

One of the great accomplishments of the past 15 years over which, it would seem, there can be no partisan controversy is the broad general program of conservation of natural resources that has moved ahead so rapidly. Whatever the expenditures in connection with it have been, every penny represents money well spent.

Everybody Happy

The schools are calling up their [illegible] for the opening of another term. Lots of parents will realize the [illegible] that now will [illegible] to them after the summer vacation. And [illegible] children will enjoy the welcome relief of returning to their own generation after spending three months with stuffy adults.

Hurricane's Lesson

Nebraska extends an understanding sympathy to New England which is still stinging from the lash of a hurricane.

Nebraska does not have hurricanes, but it has its own kind of violent weather—its tornadoes, droughts and deluges—and it knows the power of nature. It has been blessed by it and also cudgeled by it. Nor more than any other region is it exempt.

Nothing can be done to control a hurricane. It is too big. But coastal regions have learned to control a good deal of their own security. Perfected weather warnings now give advance information and people have devised security measures which have greatly reduced the loss and suffering. They have succeeded in minimizing the destructiveness of the hurricane.

Nebraska can do likewise. It cannot halt the tornado nor control the deluges and it must expect occasional periods of drought. But it can impound the deluge and use its water later to offset the drought. In that way the blessings of nature can be augmented while the cudgeling is softened.

Fortunately the Middle West is on its way to such a goal. It has made substantial progress in managing water, building skill and experience as it goes.

Advice To Youth

To one who visited the 1954 Lancaster County fair, the exhibits of homemaking in the 4-H department served to hold one for a longer time than he expected.

The 4-H girls have a flair for the household arts and as one studies the long rows of exhibits—delicious looking canned fruits, all manner of cakes and loaf after loaf of that good homemade bread, a feeling of comfort and security sharpened by that little animal desire to start taking bites out of everything pervades one's being.

There is also a good piece of advice in it for the young men. It is this: In these uncertain times when orderly civilization and shopping centers may be blown to bits at any instant, the best security is to marry a 4-H girl. Then no matter how much refugeeing must be done, there will always be a well cooked, hot meal right on time.

A Maladjust

One can almost sympathize with those hard working earnest burglars in New York who laboriously cracked a rich man's safe and were rewarded only by an outpouring of bank deposit books proving that he was as wealthy as they believed, but not in the habit of letting any of it lie around. Such an ungenerous fellow will and should forfeit the confidence of all burglars.

DREW PEARSON

Princess Alexandra Newest Glamour Gal

Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being Ella Raines, television star.

The world's next number one glamor girl, scheduled to make her formal debut on her 18th birthday, this coming Christmas day, is Princess Alexandra Helen Elizabeth Olga Christabel. Now touring the Dominion of Canada with her celebrated mother, the Duchess of Kent, the young princess will make her initial visit to the U. S. within the next few weeks before returning home to England.

Tentative guest lists are now being compiled by leading hostesses in our nation's capital. The race is on to see who will win top honors for the best party for the visiting, titled Britishers. At this writing, top-ranking diplomats, American military brass and political leaders are being handpicked for the dinner parties and galas soon expected to create so much excitement in Washington, D. C. social circles.

American housewives from Seattle to Key West, from Portland, Maine to San Diego, will be anxious to read how their royal highnesses are entertained. Since it is the dream of most American housewives, those who entertain lavishly or on limited budgets in their respective communities, to win recognition as brilliant party-givers, a poll among them, as to who they would invite to meet the renowned guests of honor, might include many notables as famous to every member of the American family as they are to the world in general.

In addition to the usual celebrities earmarked for such an occasion—the aforementioned diplomats, military and political names—Mrs. American housewife would undoubtedly add the following guests, and with good reason—the Duchess of Kent and the Princess Alexandra, unusually democratic in their ways despite their traditional British backgrounds, would be flattered to meet our Florence Chadwick, Maureen Connelly and Babe Didrickson Zaharias. With Ted Williams, Willie Mays and Bob Mathias on hand, American sports would be well represented.

HOLLYWOOD WOULD LEND GLAMOR

Hollywood celebrities, always a sure-fire guarantee of glamor and excitement at any soiree, would by necessity include Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford, Cary Grant, Marilyn Monroe, Rock Hudson, Debbie Reynolds, Clark Gable and Judy Garland. TV's Eddie Fisher, an established singing favorite of Princess Margaret Rose, would be on hand, as would be Perry Como, Frank Sinatra and Peggy Lee.

There isn't an American housewife hostessing such an affair who wouldn't have arranged to have the band music of Guy Lombardo, Sauter-Finnegan and Xavier Cugat alternating for the listening and dancing pleasure of her guests. Entertainment-wise, a dream after-dinner show would open with Les Paul and Mary Ford, followed in order by the individual talents of Liberace, Patti Page, Danny Thomas, Jane Powell, Jackie Gleason and a musical finale comprised of Helen Traubel, Rise Stevens, Blanche Thebom and Robert Peters singing "Minnie The Moocher." The incomparable Shirley Booth would, of course, act as mistress of ceremonies with an assist from David Wayne and Danny Kaye.

Menu-wise, simple home cooking would grace the table and it's an even bet Yankee pot roast with corn on the cob and baked potatoes would be the main course. American wines and beer would embellishe the meat-and-potatoes dinner. Side orders of Yorkshire pudding would be an additional treat, something in the way of a bit of British fare to compliment the distinguished guests. For dessert, apple pie — hot, spicy and topped with Wisconsin cheese. Even visiting royalty couldn't ask for anything more—unless it might be for "seconds."

NO DIOR CREATIONS

It's a safe bet that the tall, slender princess will not be wearing any of the new Dior flat-look dresses during her stay in Washington. Despite the fact the new Paris fashions are being given a big play by leading fashion editors throughout the country, the young princess has deemed the new Dior styles unsuitable for her. The blue-eyed beauty, whose good fashion sense stems from her mother's training, favors red and green for daytime wear but concentrates on all-white for formal occasions. It wouldn't surprise anyone should she arrive at any party attired in creations by such outstanding American designers as Travis Banton, Don Loper or Tina Lesser.

Death Of EDC Marks End Of Post War Era

PARIS—Now that the French National Assembly has decisively rejected EDC, Europe is left without a plan for unification, and the old antagonisms between France and Germany will be further inflamed. It is the end of one phase of the postwar era, and what shall come later, is far from clear.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who stayed in power by following a tactic that disavowed EDC without openly attacking it, has said repeatedly that he would work with Great Britain and America toward a plan to bring a German military contribution within a new form of partnership. There have been suggestions that this would be a sort of little North Atlantic Treaty Organization, a kind of club within a club, created to contain the German divisions.

But this reporter has learned that West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has stated in a letter, sent during the past week to France, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, that his government will not accept such a solution. Nor will the West German republic accept the limited sovereignty that would be accorded by ratification of the Bonn treaty separated from EDC which has now been killed.

In Bonn a month ago Vice-Chancellor Franz Blucher and other German officials told me flatly that such a solution would not be acceptable. They pointed out that the Bonn accord was negotiated in 1951. Since then extraordinary changes have taken place, including the resurgence of German industrial power to a point at which German production increasingly dominates markets in Europe, the Middle East and Far East.

It will take more than speeches to come up with the kind of formula that Mendes-France, during the EDC discussion in the Assembly, suggested could be readily found if EDC were killed. The position of Mendes-France himself has been seriously damaged in the final act of the EDC drama.

The magic that he brought as "a new man" to the solving of problems long delayed has in large part been rubbed off. He has in the wake of the EDC defeat, engineered without even a full debate on the issue, the look of just another premier caught in the toils of a system that seems to have been devised to make government impossible.

More serious is the way in which, as a result of the outcome, the Communists in the assembly have made themselves more or less indispensable to Mendes-France if he is to remain in power. The Communist bloc of 95 and the orthodox DeGaulleists with 75 votes formed well over half of the majority of 319 that defeated EDC. The fact of this support gives Mendes-France little latitude in trying to form foreign policy from here on out.

If he tries to put the Bonn treaty into effect, with rearmament for Germany to come later under some scheme worked out by a conference of the Atlantic powers, the Communists will turn against him. They might conceivably be joined by the pro-EDC deputies who are likely to say "a united Europe or nothing." Moreover, animosities have been deeply stirred with the pro-Europeans convinced that Mendes-France deliberately sabotaged EDC.

Such a combination would be strange, but no stranger in the weird intricacies of French politics than the combination of extreme left and extreme right that after two years and four months vacillation and delay brought EDC down. It would bring the Mendes-France government down, and some observers are already saying that the day of downfall is not far off. In short, as a consequence of the struggle just ended France appears to be even more ungovernable than it had been before.

On the American side, there is considerable bitterness at the outcome. Paritcularly among those who through months and years have staked everything op EDC, the conviction is strong that Mendes-France led EDC to defeat with a supposed neutrality concealing his real distrust of the plan. This bitterness could be a further handicap in the effort to work out a new approach.

As for the Communists, they can chalk this up as a major victory. While it was due in part to forces over which they had no control, such as the intransigent DeGaullists, they exploited every opportunity with persistent skill. At a critical moment Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack defected to Communism and in an interview in East Berlin this former member of key German parliamentary committees told of secret plans for 48, rather than 12, German divisions. That interview was widely carried throughout the French press. As so often in the past, Western denials however sincere, lamely followed the propaganda explosion.

And, as always, Communism could count on 95 disciplined votes, the largest bloc in the Assembly. In this hour of reckoning that may be France's greatest tragedy and greatest menace.

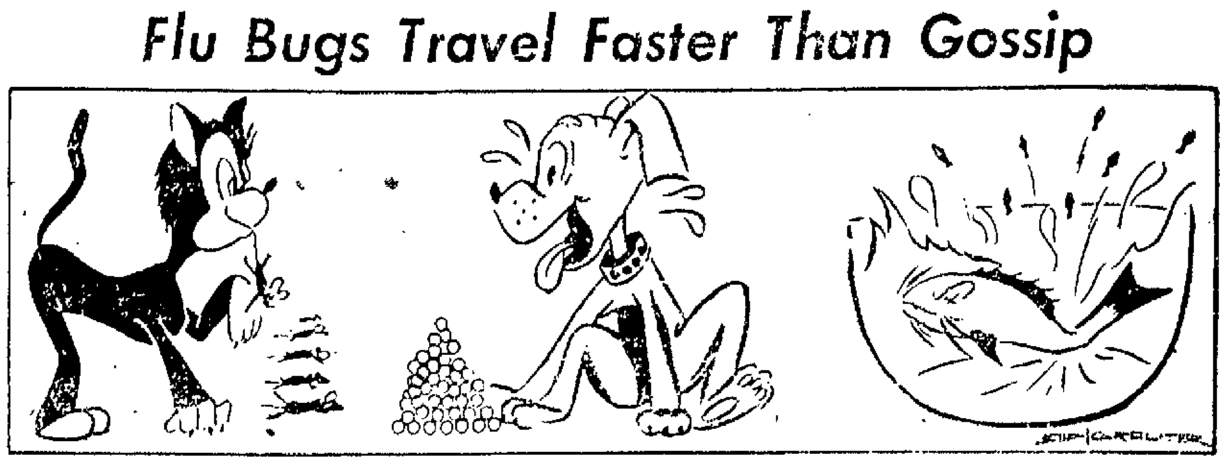
THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Flu Bugs Travel Faster Than Gossip



Columnist Bessie Grammer was telling in the Ravenna News of a friend whose cat adopted five orphan kittens and provided well for them. The second morning with her new family, it was discovered that the tabby had brought five small rats and lined them up beside the nest where the kittens were sleeping. Paul Graham of Superior has a retriever who does just that, but not in the usual sense of the word. Mr. Graham is a golfer, not a hunter, and the pooch pulls pills out of the rough for him. He doesn't stop there, however. The other morning he found not only his master's ball, but 15 more in 15 minutes in a nearby alfalfa field. "Worth his weight in golf balls," the Express calls him. Some people have two-car garages. One Fairburian has a one-fish pond—that is, when the pond must accommodate a 36-pound yellow catfish taken from the river. The fish was caught by Glenn Beachler and put in the pond that George Furry has for bait-sized minnows.

By MONA B. PARKER

Is there anything more irritating or temper-fraying than a summer cold, asks Marie Schaab in the Gretna Breeze with a wheeze and a sneeze. Such an irritation is equally as unpleasant when the north winds blow and temperatures hit the skids, she concedes, but a cough and sniffles seem to be in their proper setting then. "But when the temperature is 95 and the humidity also is 95," she [illegible], "a cold is more out of place than the traditional bull in the usual china shop."

And, "If it hasn't been your lot to try to get through a busy week with a virus bug gnawing on you," moaned M. E. Wilkins of the Syracuse Journal-Democrat, "pray it never happens. It's nothing to promote longevity, peace of mind and good will toward things in general."

Terry Barton in the Crete News demonstrates quite vividly just how fast and effectively disease can travel. His family was visiting in New Jersey, when his young son came down with flu. His wife, daughter and son returned home, and promptly became ill. A week later he himself snagged onto the bug. His brother, meanwhile, visiting them from California, departed for home, and Mr. Barton concludes that he probably has the flu by this time—making it a complete germy sweep from east coast to west coast in two weeks.

If four-leaf clovers are for luck, then Farmer Wayne Frans is double lucky. Mr. Frans, who lives northeast of Auburn, recently found an eight-leaf variety in one of his fields, with one set of four leaves set on the stem on top of the other cluster.

We've heard of green thumbs and housemaid's knee, but Frank Sestak complains of what the Comstock News calls "fishing elbow." A bump received on a recent fishing trip to Canada developed into an infection in his elbow, requiring brief hospitalization.

It's back to school soon, and all the small fry who must walk the long lane to learning would no doubt proclaim loudly that one of those three R's stand for "revoltin'."

The Polk Progress can't understand this feeling on the part of the very young. It's when they've finished school and looking back upon those years, murmurs the Progress, that the realization begins that they were happy years, perhaps the happiest of a lifetime.

Lyon Mirror-Sun Editor Stan Samuelson was reminiscing with an old college friend who will take up his duties as instructor in Lyons this year. They recalled student days "when we figured out ways to cut classes, get through with an experiment early so as to be able to coffee, date girls, etc. Gosh, we get old fast!"

Elizabeth Von Seggern notes the final round of youthful summer activities in West Point:

"Celebrating the back-to-school trek, the children give a long farewell to picnics, fishing trips and the lemonade stand that never made much profit but kept them, if not the customers, filled with iced drinks."

Glorious Victory?

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Ably the editor of The Star pointed out the cost price of farm support to the national government in the sum of .9 per cent in this state as compared to over a billion dollars annually to our national economy in return for the said federal expenditure. But Benson and Eisenhower are harkening back to the time when the law of supply and demand was in the saddle and cost the government nothing. The farmer sold his wheat on the basis of the price in the free trade markets of the world and bought in the highest protected market to be found the things he needed to keep himself in the farming business. That is where both Benson and Eisenhower are heading, with a sliding downward parity for the farmer.

Maybe that is what the farmers are wanting, but we doubt it. This coming November will tell the story. If they want it, they will give Eisenhower a Republican Congress. If they don't want it, a Republican Congress will be the last thing the farmers will give him.

What Benson doesn't know is that irrespective of the price paid the farmer, he keeps on producing. Either that, or quit farming. We had surpluses galore when we had 35-cent wheat and 10-cent corn. Did the farmers plant less corn and wheat because of low prices? Because of glutted markets? No, they kept right on planting, hoping and trusting that there would be a shortage because of crop failure somewhere else in the world, come the next crop harvest. Are we to go back to those old times? The acts of the present Congress make us think so. If there has been a "glorious victory" for Eisenhower and Benson, there hasn't been one for the farmer.

Only Future Will Show Real Germany

BONN, WEST GERMANY—Politically speaking, Germany is a patient with a bad case history whose Allied doctors have all but turned her loose to achieve whatever place she can in the world.

They have long since ceased to worry about her physical condition. It is precisely because the German economic recovery has been so remarkable that the area of her political freedom has had to be enlarged. Such healthy, virile and productive people could not be coerced into the defense of Western Europe; they had to have their own clearly defined stake in it.

Acting on the principle that interest never lies, the Allies have virtually freed the Germans to handle the problem of their own freedom. It was a risk they felt they had to take but it was and still remains a risk.

Americans need to realize that: (1) Germany is a great power today regardless of what the Allies do next: (2) Her splendid economic recovery, so obvious and so attractive to Americans, does not represent any guarantee of her political health.

☆ ☆ ☆

Officially, the United States sees no evil, hears no evil, speaks no evil of Germany. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has been given a free hand and is being helped in every possible way. He never calls on the United States high commissioner; the high commissioner calls on him. The wheels are greased, in fact, for the high commissioner to become an ambassador as soon as possible.

Exactly a year ago this prospect appeared unflawed.

On the first anniversary of that famous victory, EDC was dealt a near-mortal blow at Brussels, with all that means to the chancellor who adopted it as the best solution for Germany. At the same time two defections to the Russians by important officials of the government, one appointed and one elcted, raise grave questions about its internal administration.

The chancellor is far from being on the defensive with the Allies. Ironically, the French stood alone at Brussels and the others stood together, Dr. Adenauer among them. It was the first time he had attended such a conference and, whatever his technical status, he spoke for Germany, and everybody knew it. To that extent, he added to his international stature.

But he is on the defensive at home, nevertheless. Hope deferred maketh the heart sick here, as elsewhere. The Germans, not noted for their patience, went along on EDC, but now they will ask for other solutions. It has not helped that the West has suffered a series of defeats—in Berlin, Geneva, Indo-China. Its prestige—including that of the United States—has dipped correspondingly.

Betting On The Ponies

It may mean little or nothing, or it could mean a great deal, but once again the evidence is at hand to establish the fact that Nebraskans are not averse to taking a flier when it comes to horse racing.

The 17-day program for the Nebraska State Fair races has just come to a close with a new record rung up at the pari-mutuel windows. The races covered a slightly longer period than heretofore, counting in part for the record that was established, but an aggregate of $2,933,688 was bet during that period of time.

We haven't the slightest notion that Nebraskans are going to change their habits when it comes to playing the ponies. They legalized pari-mutuel betting through the adoption of an amendment on that subject in 1935. Each year has seen an increase in the amount of money bet on the horse races, a contradiction in Nebraska's virtuous stand when it comes to gambling. Perhaps we like to be a little bit hypocritical, surely we frown in one direction and smile in another, but most of all the excuse that we have for legalizing gambling on the ponies and outlawing every other form of gambling is the fact that a part of the take at the pari-mutuel windows is devoted to worthwhile undertakings, including the fair itself which derives a very considerable financial support from the kitty.

Lets Get To The Facts

That subdued flurry of criticism aimed at President Eisenhower for his directive part in handing to the Dixon-Yates private power group a contract to produce and deliver power to TVA has slowed down.

No doubt the administration hopes the whole subject soon will be forgotten. Perhaps it will.

There is, seemingly, a quiet pressure to stifle any investigation of the matter coupled with the generation of a good many diversionary subjects. It is always good politics to get a hot subject channeled into one of the many sidings which lead away from the main track. The meadowlark tactics work as well in politics as for the lark.

But the matter should not be diverted. A President who has done no wrong deserves to be vindicated lest unjust doubt be allowed to live. And by the same measure an injudicious act, if one should be, ought to be corrected regardless of who may have participated in it.

So far all the public really knows about the Yates-Dixon matter is that a private combination got a contract to supply power to the TVA system and that the declared intention of the contract is to halt further expansion of TVA—which as a result of natural growth stemming from the immediate and overwhelming success of TVA has grown considerably larger than its first outlines. There can be arguments about TVA. But we doubt that, given the facts, the American people want to see it handicapped or crippled. Now the issue over the Dixon-Yates contract develops because two agencies directly interested in what is done—AEC and TVA—both expressed hostility to the step that has been taken.

There is a yardstick by which the Yates-Dixon deal can be judged. It will be found in the details of the contract. If the private group is to be the beneficiary of favor or preference, tax exemption, captive markets, sure or overabundant profits, unearned benefits at the expense of the public, then the facts can be determined by the terms of the contract itself.

There should be no unnecessary delay in producing the contract. The country is entitled to an opportunity to read it and to judge it. Let's have done with all this hearsay.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It appears by way of compensation for all the years of waiting that the people of Lincoln are going to get a superior auditorium, and get it complete well within the revenue available for the auditorium project. Which is to say that all is well that ends well. There have been times when the outlook was rather dismal. Now the new plans, tentative at this time, of course, but seemingly tailored to meet Lincoln's needs, have aroused the enthusiasm of the Council. It will be a happy day if after all the controversy which has taken place, the people of Lincoln find it possible to get going on the auditorium program.

There are Many Factors

Enders Dam and the reservoir back of it upon which President Eisenhower will gaze Saturday when he visits the Republican Valley were not the tentative site selected when initial, and most preliminary studies were made. That original site was farther upstream—a beautiful, natural canyon with magnificent capacity for storage. But when the time actually came for real action towards construction, it was discovered that the dam site was not so desirable as had been hoped. In much of the discussion of river basin development there is a disposition to ignore natural factors. We do not build dams—that is, big ones—simply for the pleasure of building a dam at a certain site. The topography must be right. Not only must the topography be right but huge cores driven deeply into the earth must come to rest upon solid footings. Enders is one of the many fine dams that represent a comprehensive program of development along the Republican and its tributaries. The Frenchman itself is a picturesque stream, small, it is true, with only an average daily flow of about 75 second-feet. But it is one of those rivers—and Nebraska is fortunate in having a number of them—where the flow is dependable and stable, varying little from month to month. It is one of the finer developments in the Republican program, magnificently conceived and magnificently executed. It will be a source of pride and a most helpful contributing factor to the economic life of that area.

★

A brief dispatch from Butler County tells of gratifying progress in the program of well irrigation. The abundant rainfall throughout August in many sections of Nebraska temporarily may have dampened interest in bringing more Nebraska acres under irrigation. If that is so, welcome as the rains were and in many instances contributing substantially to more farm income, then it would be unfortunate. Nebraska's greatest stability will be reached only when every drop of water is put to beneficial use.

Storage Wherever Possible

We need more storage in this state. There is no profit in a blind protracted controversy over the best method of conserving Nebraska's most precious resource, water. There are arguments on both sides, arguments which lead only to confusion and which in the end tend to defeat Nebraska's best interests. There is a great job not only in this state but in all the 48 states of the Union yet to be performed. Every encouragement that can be given to rebuilding this nation's underground water table should be undertaken. It is not a matter peculiar to the Great North American Plains, of which Nebraska is a part. It deserves study from the eastern seaboard to the Pacific, where the same development is becoming increasingly impressive each year. This nation's underground water supplies are diminishing as the result of the great drain placed upon them. We need more dams and we need more storage, and most of all we need to conserve the enormous quantities of flood and waste water which flow to the sea.

★

One of the great accomplishments of the past 15 years over which, it would seem, there can be no partisan controversy is the broad general program of conservation of natural resources that has moved ahead so rapidly. Whatever the expenditures in connection with it have been, every penny represents money well spent.

Everybody Happy

The schools are oiling up their bells for the opening of another term. Lots of parents will welcome the quiet that now will come to them after the summer vacation. And lots of children will enjoy the welcome relief of returning to their own generation after spending three months with stuffy adults.

Hurricane's Lesson

Nebraska extends an understanding sympathy to New England which is still stinging from the lash of a hurricane.

Nebraska does not have hurricanes, but it has its own kind of violent weather—its tornadoes, droughts and deluges—and it knows the power of nature. It has been blessed by it and also cudgeled by it. Nor more than any other region is it exempt.

Nothing can be done to control a hurricane. It is too big. But coastal regions have learned to control a good deal of their own security. Perfected weather warnings now give advance information and people have devised security measures which have greatly reduced the loss and suffering. They have succeeded in minimizing the destructiveness of the hurricane.

Nebraska can do likewise. It cannot halt the tornado nor control the deluges and it must expect occasional periods of drought. But it can impound the deluge and use its water later to offset the drought. In that way the blessings of nature can be augmented while the cudgeling is softened.

Fortunately the Middle West is on its way to such a goal. It has made substantial progress in managing water, building skill and experience as it goes.

Advice To Youth

To one who visited the 1954 Lancaster County fair, the exhibits of homemaking in the 4-H department served to hold one for a longer time than he expected.

The 4-H girls have a flair for the household arts and as one studies the long rows of exhibits—delicious looking canned fruits, all manner of cakes and loaf after loaf of that good homemade bread, a feeling of comfort and security sharpened by that little animal desire to start taking bites out of everything pervades one's being.

There is also a good piece of advice in it for the young men. It is this: In these uncertain times when orderly civilization and shopping centers may be blown to bits at any instant, the best security is to marry a 4-H girl. Then no matter how much refugeeing must be done, there will always be a well cooked, hot meal right on time.

A Maladjust

One can almost sympathize with those hard working earnest burglars in New York who laboriously cracked a rich man's safe and were rewarded only by an outpouring of bank deposit books proving that he was as wealthy as they believed, but not in the habit of letting any of it lie around. Such an ungenerous fellow will and should forfeit the confidence of all burglars.

DREW PEARSON

Princess Alexandra Newest Glamour Gal

Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being Ella Raines, television star.

The world's next number one glamor girl, scheduled to make her formal debut on her 18th birthday, this coming Christmas day, is Princess Alexandra Helen Elizabeth Olga Christabel. Now touring the Dominion of Canada with her celebrated mother, the Duchess of Kent, the young princess will make her initial visit to the U. S. within the next few weeks before returning home to England.

Tentative guest lists are now being compiled by leading hostesses in our nation's capital. The race is on to see who will win top honors for the best party for the visiting, titled Britishers. At this writing, top-ranking diplomats, American military brass and political leaders are being handpicked for the dinner parties and galas soon expected to create so much excitement in Washington, D. C. social circles.

American housewives from Seattle to Key West, from Portland, Maine to San Diego, will be anxious to read how their royal highnesses are entertained. Since it is the dream of most American housewives, those who entertain lavishly or on limited budgets in their respective communities, to win recognition as brilliant party-givers, a poll among them, as to who they would invite to meet the renowned guests of honor, might include many notables as famous to every member of the American family as they are to the world in general.

In addition to the usual celebrities earmarked for such an occasion—the aforementioned diplomats, military and political names—Mrs. American housewife would undoubtedly add the following guests, and with good reason—the Duchess of Kent and the Princess Alexandra, unusually democratic in their ways despite their traditional British backgrounds, would be flattered to meet our Florence Chadwick, Maureen Connelly and Babe Didrickson Zaharias. With Ted Williams, Willie Mays and Bob Mathias on hand, American sports would be well represented.

HOLLYWOOD WOULD LEND GLAMOR

Hollywood celebrities, always a sure-fire guarantee of glamor and excitement at any soiree, would by necessity include Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford, Cary Grant, Marilyn Monroe, Rock Hudson, Debbie Reynolds, Clark Gable and Judy Garland. TV's Eddie Fisher, an established singing favorite of Princess Margaret Rose, would be on hand, as would be Perry Como, Frank Sinatra and Peggy Lee.

There isn't an American housewife hostessing such an affair who wouldn't have arranged to have the band music of Guy Lombardo, Sauter-Finnegan and Xavier Cugat alternating for the listening and dancing pleasure of her guests. Entertainment-wise, a dream after-dinner show would open with Les Paul and Mary Ford, followed in order by the individual talents of Liberace, Patti Page, Danny Thomas, Jane Powell, Jackie Gleason and a musical finale comprised of Helen Traubel, Rise Stevens, Blanche Thebom and Robert, Peters singing "Minnie The Moocher." The incomparable Shirley Booth would, of course, act as mistress of ceremonies with an assist from David Wayne and Danny Kaye.

Menu-wise, simple home cooking would grace the table and it's an even bet Yankee pot roast with corn on the cob and baked potatoes would be the main course. American wines and beer would embellishe the meat-and-potatoes dinner. Side orders of Yorkshire pudding would be an additional treat, something in the way of a bit of British fare to compliment the distinguished guests. For dessert, apple pie — hot, spicy and topped with Wisconsin cheese. Even visiting royalty couldn't ask for anything more—unless it might be for "seconds."

NO DIOR CREATIONS

It's a safe bet that the tall, slender princess will not be wearing any of the new Dior flat-look dresses during her stay in Washington. Despite the fact the new Paris fashions are being given a big play by leading fashion editors throughout the country, the young princess has deemed the new Dior styles unsuitable for her. The blue-eyed beauty, whose good fashion sense stems from her mother's training, favors red and green for daytime wear but concentrates on all-white for formal occasions. It wouldn't surprise anyone should she arrive at any party attired in creations by such outstanding American designers as Travis Banton, Don Loper or Tina Lesser.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Death Of EDC Marks End Of Post War Era

PARIS—Now that the French National Assembly has decisively rejected EDC, Europe is left without a plan for unification, and the old antagonisms between France and Germany will be further inflamed. It is the end of one phase of the postwar era, and what shall come later, is far from clear.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who stayed in power by following a tactic that disavowed EDC without openly attacking it, has said repeatedly that he would work with Great Britain and America toward a plan to bring a German military contribution within a new form of partnership. There have been suggestions that this would be a sort of little North Atlantic Treaty Organization, a kind of club within a club, created to contain the German divisions.

But this reporter has learned that West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has stated in a letter, sent during the past week to France, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, that his government will not accept such a solution. Nor will the West German republic accept the limited sovereignty that would be accorded by ratification of the Bonn treaty separated from EDC which has now been killed.

In Bonn a month ago Vice-Chancellor Franz Blucher and other German officials told me flatly that such a solution would not be acceptable. They pointed out that the Bonn accord was negotiated in 1951. Since then extraordinary changes have taken place, including the resurgence of German industrial power to a point at which German production increasingly dominates markets in Europe, the Middle East and Far East.

It will take more than speeches to come up with the kind of formula that Mendes-France, during the EDC discussion in the Assembly, suggested could be readily found if EDC were killed. The position of Mendes-France himself has been seriously damaged in the final act of the EDC drama.

The magic that he brought as "a new man" to the solving of problems long delayed has in large part been rubbed off. He has in the wake of the EDC defeat, engineered without even a full debate on the issue, the look of just another premier caught in the toils of a system that seems to have been devised to make government impossible.

More serious is the way in which, as a result of the outcome, the Communists in the assembly have made themselves more or less indispensable to Mendes-France if he is to remain in power. The Communist bloc of 95 and the orthodox DeGaulleists with 75 votes formed well over half of the majority of 319 that defeated EDC. The fact of this support gives Mendes-France little latitude in trying to form foreign policy from here on out.

If he tries to put the Bonn treaty into effect, with rearmament for Germany to come later under some scheme worked out by a conference of the Atlantic powers, the Communists will turn against him. They might conceivably be joined by the pro-EDC deputies who are likely to say "a united Europe or nothing." Moreover, animosities have been deeply stirred with the pro - Europeans convinced that Mendes-France deliberately sabotaged EDC.

Such a combination would be strange, but no stranger in the weird intricacies of French politics than the combination of extreme left and extreme right that after two years and four months vacillation and delay brought EDC down. It would bring the Mendes-France government down, and some observers are already saying that the day of downfall is not far off. In short, as a consequence of the struggle just ended France appears to be even more ungovernable than it had been before.

On the American side, there is considerable bitterness at the outcome. Paritcularly among those who through months and years have staked everything on EDC, the conviction is strong that Mendes-France led EDC to defeat with a supposed neutrality concealing his real distrust of the plan. This bitterness could be a further handicap in the effort to work out a new approach.

As for the Communists, they can chalk this up as a major victory. While it was due in part to forces over which they had no control, such as the intransigent DeGaulleists, they exploited every opportunity with persistent skill. At a critical moment Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack defected to Communism and in an interview in East Berlin this former member of key German parliamentary committees told of secret plans for 48, rather than 12, German divisions. That interview was widely carried throughout the French press. As so often in the past, Western denials however sincere, lamely followed the propaganda explosion.

And, as always, Communism could count on 95 disciplined votes, the largest bloc in the Assembly. In this hour of reckoning that may be France's greatest tragedy and greatest menace.

Flu Bugs Travel Faster Than Gossip

Columnist Bessie Grammer was telling in the Ravenna News of a friend whose cat adopted five orphan kittens and provided well for them. The second morning with her new family, it was discovered that the tabby had brought five small rats and lined them up beside the nest where the kittens were sleeping. . . Paul Graham of Superior has a retriever who does just that, but not in the usual sense of the word. Mr. Graham is a golfer, not a hunter, and the pooch pulls pills out of the rough for him. He doesn't stop there, however. The other morning he found not only his master's ball, but 15 more in 15 minutes in a nearby alfalfa field. "Worth his weight in golf balls," the Express calls him. . . Some people have two-car garages. One Fairburian has a one-fish pond—that is, when the pond must accommodate a 36-pound yellow catfish taken from the river. The fish was caught by Glenn Beachler and put in the pond that George Furry has for bait-sized minnows.

By MONA B. PARKER

Is there anything more irritating or temper-fraying than a summer cold, asks Marie Schaab in the Gretna Breeze with a wheeze and a sneeze. Such an irritation is equally as unpleasant when the north winds blow and temperatures hit the skids, she concedes, but a cough and sniffles seem to be in their proper setting then. "But when the temperature is 95 and the humidity also is 95," she rasps, "a cold is more out of place than the traditional bull in the usual china shop."

☆ ☆ ☆

And, "If it hasn't been your lot to try to get through a busy week with a virus bug gnawing on you," moaned M. E. Wilkins of the Syracuse Journal-Democrat, "pray it never happens. It's nothing to promote longevity, peace of mind and good will toward things in general."

☆ ☆ ☆

Terry Barton in the Crete News demonstrates quite vividly just how fast and effectively disease can travel. His family was visiting in New Jersey, when his young son came down with flu. His wife, daughter and son returned home, and promptly became ill. A week later he himself snagged onto the bug. His brother, meanwhile, visiting them from California, departed for home, and Mr. Barton concludes that he probably has the flu by this time—making it a complete germy sweep from east coast to west coast in two weeks.

We've heard of green thumbs and housemaid's knee, but Frank Sestak complains of what the Comstock News calls "fishing elbow." A bump received on a recent fishing trip to Canada developed into an infection in his elbow, requiring brief hospitalization.

It's back to school soon, and all the small fry who must walk the long lane to learning would no doubt proclaim loudly that one of those three R's stand for "revoltin'."

The Polk Progress can't understand this feeling on the part of the very young. It's when they've finished school and looking back upon those years, murmurs the Progress, that the realization begins that they were happy years, perhaps the happiest of a lifetime.

Lyon Mirror-Sun Editor Stan Samuelson was reminiscing with an old college friend who will take up his duties as instructor in Lyons this year. They recalled student days "when we figured out ways to cut classes, get through with an experiment early so as to be able to coffee, date girls, etc. Gosh, we get old fast!"

Elizabeth Von Seggern notes the final round of youthful summer activities in West Point:

"Contemplating the back-to-school trek, the children give a long farewell to picnics, fishing trips and the lemonade stand that never made much profit but kept them, if not the customers, filled with iced drinks."

DORIS FLEESON

Only Future Will Show Real Germany

BONN, WEST GERMANY—Politically speaking, Germany is a patient with a bad case history whose Allied doctors have all but turned her loose to achieve whatever place she can in the world.

They have long since ceased to worry about her physical condition. It is precisely because the German economic recovery has been so remarkable that the area of her political freedom has had to be enlarged. Such healthy, virile and productive people could not be coerced into the defense of Western Europe; they had to have their own clearly defined stake in it.

Acting on the principle that interest never lies, the Allies have virtually freed the Germans to handle the problem of their own freedom. It was a risk they felt they had to take but it was and still remains a risk.

Americans need to realize that: (1) Germany is a great power today regardless of what the Allies do next: (2) Her splendid economic recovery, so obvious and so attractive to Americans, does not represent any guarantee of her political health.

☆ ☆ ☆

Officially, the United States sees no evil, hears no evil, speaks no evil of Germany. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has been given a free hand and is being helped in every possible way. He never calls on the United States high commissioner; the high commissioner calls on him. The wheels are greased, in fact, for the high commissioner to become an ambassador as soon as possible.

Exactly a year ago this prospect appeared unflawed.

On the first anniversary of that famous victory, EDC was dealt a near-mortal blow at Brussels, with all that means to the chancellor who adopted it as the best solution for Germany. At the same time two defections to the Russians by important officials of the government, one appointed and one elcted, raise grave questions about its internal administration.

The chancellor is far from being on the defensive with the Allies. Ironically, the French stood alone at Brussels and the others stood together, Dr. Adenauer among them. It was the first time he had attended such a conference and, whatever his technical status, he spoke for Germany, and everybody knew it. To that extent, he added to his international stature.

But he is on the defensive at home, nevertheless. Hope deferred maketh the heart sick here, as elsewhere. The Germans, not noted for their patience, went along on EDC, but now they will ask for other solutions. It has not helped that the West has suffered a series of defeats—in Berlin, Geneva, Indo-China. Its prestige—including that of the United States—has dipped correspondingly.

Glorious Victory?

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Ably the editor of The Star pointed out the cost price of farm support to the national government in the sum of .9 per cent in this state as compared to over a billion dollars annually to our national economy in return for the said federal expenditure. But Benson and Eisenhower are harkening back to the time when the law of supply and demand was in the saddle and cost the government nothing. The farmer sold his wheat on the basis of the price in the free trade markets of the world and bought in the highest protected market to be found the things he needed to keep himself in the farming business. That is where both Benson and Eisenhower are heading, with a sliding downward parity for the farmer.

Maybe that is what the farmers are wanting, but we doubt it. This coming November will tell the story. If they want it, they will give Eisenhower a Republican Congress. If they don't want it, a Republican Congress will be the last thing the farmers will give him.

What Benson doesn't know is that irrespective of the price paid the farmer, he keeps on producing. Either that, or quit farming. We had surpluses galore when we had 50-cent wheat and 10-cent corn. Did the farmers plant less corn and wheat because of low prices? Because of glutted markets? No, they kept right on planting, hoping and trusting that there would be a shortage because of crop failure somewhere else in the world, come the next crop harvest. Are we to go back to those old times? The acts of the present Congress make us think so. If there has been a "glorious victory" for Eisenhower and Benson, there hasn't been one for the farmer.

Probation System Aim Crosby Youth Committee

Costs Of State-Wide Plan And 'Who Will Pay?' Is Catch

Presentation to the next Legislature of a bill to establish a state-wide probation and parole system was a hope expressed at a meeting of the governor's steering committee on youth problems.

The possibility of setting up separate juvenile courts in the state was discussed but appeared to be full of conflicts

One of the big questions raised relative to a state-wide probation and parole system was one of money—who should finance such a system. Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert Nelson, chairman of the steering committee's legal sub-committee, expressed favor with a plan for state financing.

Many judges across the state, Nelson reported, sentence youths to institutions simply because there is no adequate probation system. The state must pay for this institutional care.

The state, he said, would lose no more by setting up a probation system that would relieve the load on the institutions.

Gov. Robert Crosby agreed that the suggestion was logical since the state now pays District Court Judges and reporters

Nelson's sub-committee also suggested the steering group give study to the raising of the maximum $720 a year salary that can be paid probation officers in counties from 20,000 to 60,000 population.

The question of appointment of judges was raised in connection with establishment of juvenile courts but it was stated that since other judges are elected, such appointments might conflict with the constitution. It was also suggested that district court judges have one of their members run on the ballot for election as juvenile judge.

The committee passed a resolution by Crosby asking the committee to "cause to be prepared a bill improving our juvenile court system"

Besides the consideration of other laws relating to juvenile work, the steering group adopted and sent to the governor a constitution for the establishment of a 24-member permanent committee to be known as the Nebraska Committee For Youth.

The constitution calls for the governor's appointment also of ex-officio members taken from the executive, legislative and judiciary branch of government The permanent committee is also to have a paid executive secretary and such other paid help as is necessary and the funds will provide.

The steering sub committee on a statewide conference made a report calling for such a state-wide meeting this fall to include various individuals and organizations in related juvenile care and service work This was viewed as an orientation meeting for the permanent committee

Reformatory inmate Thomas Richard Oakland, 25, was sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary after pleading guilty in Lancaster District Court to an escape charge

He was charged with escaping from the Reformatory on Aug. 15 when, according to Supt. George Morris, Oakland sawed his way out through a second-floor window and let himself down with a bedsheet rope.

Oakland was apprehended by Memphis, Tenn,. police on Aug 20 after his family notified authorities of Oakland's whereabouts, the court was told.

Pen Term Ordered On Escape Charge

Reformatory inmate Thomas Richard Oakland, 25, was sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary after pleading guilty in Lancaster District Court to an escape charge.

He was charged with escaping from the Reformatory on Aug. 15 when, according to Supt. George Morris, Oakland sawed his way out through a second-floor window and let himself down with a bedsheet rope.

Oakland was apprehended by Memphis, Tenn,. police on Aug. 20 after his family notified authorities of Oakland's whereabouts, the court was told.

Oakland was serving a two-to-four year term in the Reformatory on a no-fund check charge given Nov. 6, 1953, from Douglas County.

Judge Harry Spencer ordered the escape sentence to run consecutive to the current term.

Farm Prices 3 Per Cent Higher Than Month Earlier

National Mark Also Goes Up

Nebraska farm commodity prices averaged 3½ per cent higher on Aug. 15, 1954, than on the same date in July, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said Friday.

However, prices were 7 per cent below levels of Aug. 15, 1953.

Average prices received for crops were 3 per cent above the levels of a month earlier. Livestock and livestock product prices increased nearly 4 per cent. Dry edible beans, soybeans and lambs were the only commodities registering declines.

The $1.30 increase in the average hog price was due primarily to reduced marketing of sows. Rains received during August resulted in increased demand for stocker and feeder cattle and reduced the necessity for forced marketing of the animals.

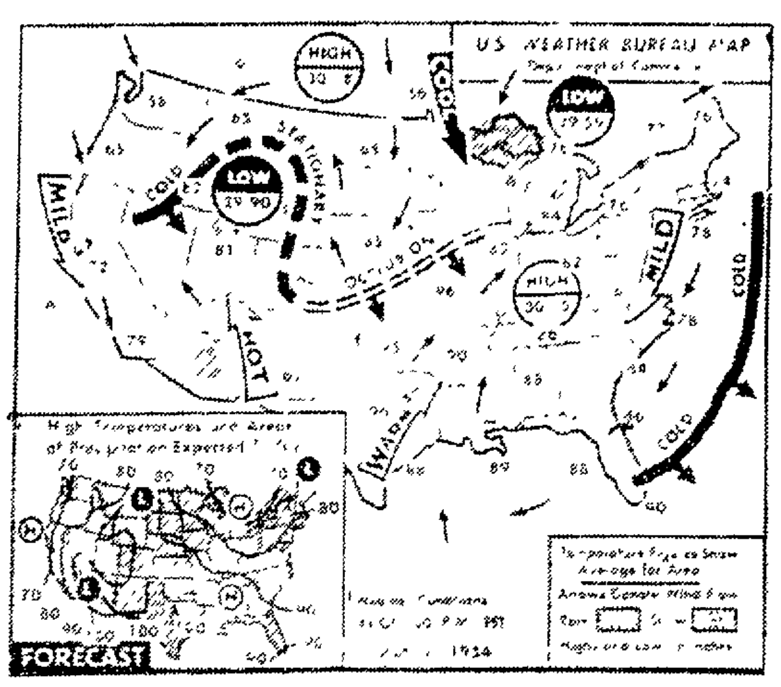
Hay Prices Up

Corn and oats prices were three cents higher while barley was up two cents. All hay prices advanced $2.80 per ton as a result of reduced hay supplies in drought areas of the South and Southwest.

Prices received by farmers for poultry and eggs recorded an 11 per cent increase.

Seed prices were also higher as red clover seed was $4 above the July level and alfalfa seed, $3.50. Dry edible beans were lower due to a 60 cent decline in the price of Great Northern beans.

Nationally, farm prices rose nearly 2 per cent. The advance was led by cotton, milk, eggs, oranges, hogs and cottonseed. Commercial vegetables and tobacco showed price declines.



Partly Cloudy, Scattered Showers

Sunny to partly cloudy weather will cover the eastern states Friday. Temperatures in this area will show little change. A few showers are forecast for the northern plains, western lakes district and in upper New York state. Some thundershowers are expected in the Rocky Mountain states and in Florida. First Polio Case Among Group Of Omaha Inoculated Reported

OMAHA (AP) — Douglas County's first case of polio among children who received the Salk vaccine was reported Thursday.

He is Michael Sexton, 7, who was inoculated last spring as a second grade pupil at St. Cecilia's Grade School

He was in good condition Thursday at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Edwin Lyman, city-county health director, said the disease was diagnosed as polio after a spinal puncture test was made.

It appears to be a light case of non-paralytic polio.

Since it is difficult to make a definite diagnosis of polio in cases where there is no paralysis, Dr. Lymann said, blood samples have been sent to the University of Minnesota for tests. The tests will determine if the child built antibodies against the disease as a result of the inoculations.

Ike's Tour Plans Result Of Strunk's Idea

Reclamation Officials Also Urged Flight

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—A suggestion by Harry P. Strunk, publisher of the McCook Gazette, started plans for President Eisenhower's four-state flying tour of reclamation projects Saturday, the Gazette reports.

The President will speak at the airport here Saturday during a pause in an aerial inspection of reclamation work in Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and Wyoming.

Strunk, head of the Republican Valley Conservation Assn. and a former director of the National Reclamation Assn., said he first thought of the idea while in the hospital with a broken foot.

"I kept thinking of the water now stored on the dams and the canals not yet built to take the water where it could do some good," Strunk said. "Then I read in the papers where Eisenhower was going to Denver for a vacation when Congress adjourned.

$100,000,000 Needed

"I thought to myself why not ask him to come out here, to see for himself why we need water, why we have built dams, and why we need $100,000,000 more to build the irrigation canals and laterals to put the stored water to use and the additional dams already approved by Congress.

"I thought we should offer him an opportunity to inspect some of our problems out here and learn of them first-hand," he added.

Strunk said he called in Bud Ryan, national counselor of the Republican Valley Assn., in Washington and Don Martin, public relations officer for the Bureau of Reclamation's Denver office, to suggest an inspection tour by the President during his vacation.

According to The Gazzette, Ryan began promoting the idea in Washington and Martin presented the proposed trip to the summer White House staff in Denver.

Others Backed Plan

The plan then began to receive additional support. The Gazzette said that other Nebraskans adding support to the idea included Fred Seaton, publisher of the Hastings, Neb. Tribune and an assistant secretary of defense; Roy Cochran, of the Budget Bureau in Washington; Val Peterson, national Civil Defense director; Clarence Davis, undersecretary of the Interior, and Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.).

The Bureau of Reclamation then stepped in with help given the idea by H. E. Robinson, manager of the Kansas River project here, and Rudolph Walter, head of the Bureau's Denver office. Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado also helped convince the President that he should make the trip, the Gazette said.

In addition to the tour Saturday, Eisenhower will inspect reclamation projects on the western and eastern slopes of the Rockies and in the northern portion of the Missouri River Basin on Sept. 7, the summer White House said.

School Pupils At Petersburg Get GG Shots

PETERSBURG, Neb. (AP)—Fifty-four pupils of the Petersburg public school were given gamma globulin shots Thursday afternoon after the hospitalization of a kindergarten pupil with polio.

The child, Cynthia Routhen, became ill Tuesday and has been hospitalized in Norfolk.

Dr. R. J. Smith, Albion physician who serves as the Petersburg school doctor, administered the shots after arrival of the serum from Lincoln earlier in the day.

Petersburg parocial school children did not get the shots because of lack of direct contact with the stricken girl.

It was the first polio case in Boone County this year.

Human Element Said Important In Polio Therapy

OMAHA (AP) —Muriel Jennings, New York nurse taking part in an Omaha institute on polio rehabilitation, believes the human element is still important for nurses in polio therapy work.

"There is so much equipment, so much machinery involved in treatment that some nurses hesitate to enter the field," Miss Jennings said. "They feel they would have to become embryo mechanics."

She said these nurses probably don't realize that the basic precepts of good nursing apply just as much in polio rehabilitation as in any other field of nursing.

"He hadn't been here long, but he was very popular," Public Information Officer Bill Haggart said.

Power Shortage Seen Unless Plant Issue Settled Before '55

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—It's the opinion of the manager of the Platte Valley Public Power District at North Platte that one way or another, the question of who is to build a power generating plant in Nebraska better be settled before the end of the year.

If it is not settled, predicted Gerald Gentleman of North Platte, Nebraska will face a power shortage in 1957.

The Nebraska Public Power System, of which Platte Valley is a part, proposes building a plant near Beatrice. Consumers Public Power District, fundamentally a distributing system, plans to build a plant. The argument over the building plans has been taken to court with the result that sale of $17,600,000 in NPPS bonds to finance the Beatrice project has been cancelled.

Gentleman agreed that Consumers "probably could borrow money cheaper than we could" to build a plant.

Solution Said Possible

But, he said, there are other factors to consider, and that "in spite of opposition to us stirred up in the market that adversely affected our cost of money, we were able to sell bonds and would have had the plant under way in April if it hadn't been for the Custer County suit."

Gentleman said solution to the problem could lie in a meeting between committees appointed by boards of each of the three state public power districts.

Gentleman said the hydros — the power-producing districts — would be able to supply needed power for the state in 1955 and 1956 with help of 30,000 additional kilowatts each year purchased from the Bureau of Reclamation.

"But by 1957, we'll have to have more," Gentleman said. Estimates of the hydros and Consumers as to power needs do not differ materially, he said.

"If the generating plant is started by Jan. 1, 1955," it will not be finished before Christmas, 1957." Gentleman declared.

Ike's Tour Plans Result Of Strunk's Idea

Reclamation Officials Also Urged Flight

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—A suggestion by Harry P. Strunk, publisher of the McCook Gazette, started plans for President Eisenhower's four-state flying tour of reclamation projects Saturday, the Gazette reports.

The President will speak at the airport here Saturday during a pause in an aerial inspection of reclamation work in Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and Wyoming.

Strunk, head of the Republican Valley Conservation Assn. and a former director of the National Reclamation Assn., said he first thought of the idea while in the hospital with a broken foot.

"I kept thinking of the water now stored on the dams and the canals not yet built to take the water where it could do some good," Strunk said. "Then I read in the papers where Eisenhower was going to Denver for a vacation when Congress adjourned.

$100,000,000 Needed

"I thought to myself why not ask him to come out here, to see for himself why we need water, why we have built dams, and why we need $100,000,000 more to build the irrigation canals and laterals to put the stored water to use and the additional dams already approved by Congress.

"I thought we should offer him an opportunity to inspect some of our problems out here and learn of them first-hand," he added.

Strunk said he called in Bud Ryan, national counselor of the Republican Valley Assn., in Washington and Don Martin, public relations officer for the Bureau of Reclamation's Denver office, to suggest an inspection tour by the President during his vacation.

According to The Gazzette, Ryan began promoting the idea in Washington and Martin presented the proposed trip to the summer White House staff in Denver.

Others Backed Plan

The plan then began to receive additional support. The Gazzette said that other Nebraskans adding support to the idea included Fred Seaton, publisher of the Hastings, Neb. Tribune and an assistant secretary of defense; Roy Cochran, of the Budget Bureau in Washington; Val Peterson, national Civil Defense director; Clarence Davis, undersecretary of the Interior, and Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.).

The Bureau of Reclamation then stepped in with help given the idea by H. E. Robinson, manager of the Kansas River project here, and Rudolph Walter, head of the Bureau's Denver office. Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado also helped convince the President that he should make the trip, the Gazette said.

In addition to the tour Saturday, Eisenhower will inspect reclamation projects on the western and eastern slopes of the Rockies and in the northern portion of the Missouri River Basin on Sept. 7, the summer White House said.

HEAR that the bridge tournament which was held on Wednesday at the Lincoln Country Club and which closed the season's series of ladies' bridge days, was quite a success. Capek. Mrs. Bert Knapp and Mrs. Joseph Albin took the top honors for the east-west combination.

THOSE travelers that we picked up rather belatedly are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Faulkner who leave next Tuesday for the Broadmoor, Colorado Springs. BACK in town after a holiday at Grand Lake, Colo., are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coryell, who had a wonderful time since their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hall of Kansas City, were at Grand Lake at the same time. An extra feature was added in the person of Sarah Churchill who was spending some time as the house guest of Mr. Hall's parents.

* * *

AND someone told us that Miss Bridget Watson has returned from her summer in Mexico. The greater portion of her time was spent in Mexico City where, so we were told, she concentrated on Spanish — But later there was a holiday trip to Acapulco.

WE'RE FOND OF BLYTHE DAWNS

ODDLY enough — because we didn't expect it—this turned out to be a very blithe morning—exactly the type of which we are most fond—Naturally our fondness involves the business of news—such as guests, which we have; parties, which we also have—and homecomers—just a little of everything. For a moment or two we thought we were lacking some travelers—but we filled that vacancy in short order.

* * *

SOME of our guests are in town but briefly—They are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Colton and their son, Clark of San Antonio, Tex., who arrived on Tuesday to remain until today as the guests of Mrs. Colton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Roper.

The travelers stopped off in Lincoln en route to Boston, Mass., where Clark Colton will remain for his senior year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

BUT Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. H. R. Collier who arrived from Anchorage, Alaska a day or two ago, are here for a longer stay. Legion Cites Un-American Matter In Girl Scout Publications

Leaders Asked To Explain Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Legion called on leaders of the Girl Scouts Thursday to explain publicly what they have done to eliminate "un-American propaganda" from Girl Scout publications.

The Legion took the action in approving a resolution saying there had been "documented instances" of such propaganda and asking whether those responsible were still influential in the Girl Scouts.

The resolution did not specify the nature of the propaganda. However, the Illinois Department of the Legion complained last month that the 1953 Girl Scout handbook had omitted sections on citizenship, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the U.S. flag, the national anthem and was "packed with one world ideas."

Commander Irving Breakstone of the Illinois Department said Aug. 20 that the omissions had been rectified in a new edition of the handbook.

'Corrections'

The resolution adopted by the national Legion convention said the Girl Scouts' national headquarters had informed the Illinois Legion of "corrections and deletions" in the handbook. It commended these actions but called on Girl Scout leaders to say what they have done about "other un-American propaganda in Girl Scout publications."

The resolution was amended from the floor to specifically commend the Girl Scout organization "both for its purposes and its accomplishments in educating the girlhood of America in appreciation of the responsibilities of United States citizenship."

The resolution directed the Legion's national commander to confer promptly with Girl Scout officials to offer the Legion's cooperation in revising the disputed publications and in "building a continuing and permanent liaison arrangement" between the two organizations.

A barbecue and centennial pageant will be held Wednesday evening, and the annual meeting will conclude Thursday with a series of tours starting with a 6 o'clock dawn program at Arbor Lodge.

Property Owners Seek Separation From Village Limit

Arnold J. and Ruth E. Volkmer have petitioned the Lancaster District Court seeking to have their home property disconnected from the village of Waverly.

The Volkmers allege their home is the only improvement on the property, an "isolated extension" adjoining Waverly only at its south end.

They claim no benefit in the form of public utilities from the village but are required to bear a portion of the financial burden of the municipal corporation.

Because they are within the corporate limits, they allege, their four children are deprived of bus transportation to and from school.

Legion Cites Un-American Matter In Girl Scout Publications

Leaders Asked To Explain Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Legion called on leaders of the Girl Scouts Thursday to explain publicly what they have done to eliminate "un-American propaganda" from Girl Scout publications.

The Legion took the action in approving a resolution saying there had been "documented instances" of such propaganda and asking whether those responsible were still influential in the Girl Scouts.

The resolution did not specify the nature of the propaganda. However, the Illinois Department of the Legion complained last month that the 1953 Girl Scout handbook had omitted sections on citizenship, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the U.S. flag, the national anthem and was "packed with one world ideas."

Commander Irving Breakstone of the Illinois Department said Aug. 20 that the omissions had been rectified in a new edition of the handbook.

'Corrections'

The resolution adopted by the national Legion convention said the Girl Scouts' national headquarters had informed the Illinois Legion of "corrections and deletions" in the handbook. It commended these actions but called on Girl Scout leaders to say what they have done about "other un-American propaganda in Girl Scout publications."

The resolution was amended from the floor to specifically commend the Girl Scout organization "both for its purposes and its accomplishments in educating the girlhood of America in appreciation of the responsibilities of United States citizenship."

The resolution directed the Legion's national commander to confer promptly with Girl Scout officials to offer the Legion's cooperation in revising the disputed publications and in "building a continuing and permanent liaison arrangement" between the two organizations.

Property Owners Seek Separation From Village Limit

Arnold J. and Ruth E. Volkmer have petitioned the Lancaster District Court seeking to have their home property disconnected from the village of Waverly.

The Volkmers allege their home is the only improvement on the property, an "isolated extension" adjoining Waverly only at its south end.

They claim no benefit in the form of public utilities from the village but are required to bear a portion of the financial burden of the municipal corporation.

Because they are within the corporate limits, they allege, their four children are deprived of bus transportation to and from school.

WEIGHING WRANGLES

Bridgeport Station Is Under Fire

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — The State Highway Department has another truck weighing station dispute on its hands.

For some time the North Platte station has been a controversial point and now the Bridgeport-Northport station is under fire.

The latter controversy revolves around a requirement that all trucks stop at the station regardless of how many times they pass during the day.

Railroading Truckers

Although no formal organization exists protesting the operation of the station, the oludest complaints have come from Paul Rhodes, Bridgeport attorney, who claims "in my opinion they are railroading the truckers, especially those to whom the cost of a court trial are prohibitive."

William Dillow, in charge of the scale, denied persecuting truckers, saying "all we're doing is enforcing the law. We don't make it."

Most of the criticism has come since the State Department of Roads and Irrigation took over the stations from the Safety Patrol.

"Trucks have to stop a dozen times a day," Rhodes said, "even if they're only crossing the river. The weighers come into town and hang around trying to catch someone."

Dillow denied this and described the route of his patrol car which has to insure that trucks coming into Bridgeport on highway 36 south of the location of the scales stop at the station.

"We're not doing any business off the main highway," he said.

Trade Hurt

B. N. Dunlap, Bridgeport grain elevator operator, said "we hear a lot of talk about people not coming into Bridgeport to trade because of the weighing situation. One customer from Bayard said that was his reason for not coming into town anymore with his truck."

"I don't think there is anything wrong with the scales. We probably need them. But they should be operated so as not to aggravate people," he commented.

Dillow replied, "No one is happy to be caught in a violation of the law but everyone who operated trucks knows there are certain limits which they have to follow."

No Trouble

"We don't care particularly about pickup trucks," he said, but state law requires them to be weighed. If they don't have more than a thousand pound load, they'll never have trouble with us."

Richard Blome, Bridgeport merchant, complained that trucks on runs between Northport and Bridgeport have to stop every time they pass the station.

"It's ruining business and hurting farmers," he said, "although I think the situation would be improved if the weighers would be a little more polite."

Dillow countered that the vast majority of the people who have their trucks weighed at the station never complain about having to stop.

NEW YORK (INS)—Laraine Day Durocher may be chewing her nails over the New York Giants' pennant drive, but if so she's not exhibiting her manicure to let the world know it.

In fact the pretty wife of Giant Manager Leo Durocher won't admit anything except that she's married to "a very superstitious man."

"So I can't say anything about the Giants," she expalined Wednesday. "Leo is very superstitious, the team is very superstitious too, and they don't like me to talk about the Giants.

"I guess they think it's like counting chickens before they're hatched."

More Cause

Today, Mrs. Durocher will have additional cause for nail-chewing. The Giants are three games ahead of their National League archrivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

MRS. DUROCHER

But tonight—ah! tonight the Dodgers and the Giants start a three-game week-end series, and a sweep by the Dodgers could mean the pennant!

Laraine Durocher will be watching the series from her usual box behind the Giant dugout. She flew back from the Durochers' Beverly Hills, Calif., home Wednesday just so she could root for her team.

Any predictions as to the games' result will have to come from husband Leo, who is not known as "Lippy" because of his long silences.

"I'm just not going to talk about the Giants." Laraine repeated emphatically.

But the manager's wife gave a strong hint that she believes Durocher's boys will nail down the championship.

"The year the Giants won the pennant," she pointed out, "they didn't want me to talk either."

That was in 1951, when the Giants took the flag in a dramatic playoff from the Dodgers. That year, the Dodgers were ahead until the last day of the season.

It was also the year when the former actress from Utah proved her enthusiasm for baseball, an enthusiasm she admits acquiring only after marrying Durocher in 1947, when he was managing Brooklyn.

Baseball scribes recorded that one bitterly contested play in the Dodger-Giant battle of 1951 made the soft-voiced Laraine yell so loud and long that Hubby Durocher climbed out of the dugout and told her "to please shut up."

The baseball writers regarded this as a definite case of man biting dog.

Only two things will insure the Lincoln Chiefs' return to Sherman Field in 1955—a full-fledged tieup with a major league club and local money.

Schimmel

If the requirements are fulfilled Lincoln will have baseball, if they are not you can look for a dull summer. It's just that simple.

With the hiring of Bill Herring to look after the interests of the Chiefs during the winter months, the club's board of directors have moved to try and solve the major league affiliation problem.

* * *

While it obviously would be better to have a manager headquartered in Lincoln, it is generally recognized that you can't pick up top notch baseball business managers for only short time service. Also, Herring seems confident that he can handle the paper work from his home at Goldsboro, N.C. and even more important that he can secure a major league agreement.

Bill puts it this way:

"Lincoln cannot continue its operation in the Western League under the present setup. Without a major league club in charge, the costs—talent-hunting, travel, payroll, meals and all—are prohibitive.

"The board of directors realizes this to be true and are anxious for a major league hook-up and, while I can't commit myself now, I feel that the prospects for such an affiliation and Lincoln baseball in 1955 are very good."

Reason behind Herring's interim appointment is twofold. First, when the major league club takes over it would probably want to name its own general manager and field manager and second, Herring, rightly enough, doesn't want to be obligated here if he gets a chance to step up to a more lucrative spot. Both these reasons also apply to Manager Red McQuillen.

* * *

Local money is needed badly in order to show the major league team that Lincoln wants baseball and to guarantee support. This may prove to be the stickler after two consecutive fund drives.

But since the issue is clear cut—major league and local money—the way ahead is obvious. Herring will handle the major league end and the baseball fans of Lincoln, as well as the other people who realize—or should—that the city benefits from baseball in many ways must solve the other problem.

Club President A. Q. Schimmel and the board of directors want baseball and are exerting all their energies in an effort to preserve it, but the remark of a pal of ours who is a real baseball lover—not one of the renowned Lincoln fair weather followers—hits it squarely on the head:

"If a lot of other people in town were working as hard for baseball as A. Q., we'd be out of the woods."

Finding the major league team to pick up Lincoln may prove to be a formidable hurdle. The big clubs are reluctant to have more than one Class A underling and with most of the Western League teams already under the wing of a parent club, the field for Herring is somewhat limited.

Without a doubt it's a tough problem, but it is certainly one that deserves a great deal of earnest thought.

Lincoln would be a mighty boring place to dwell in the hot summer months without baseball to talk about and Sherman Field to visit on those sweltering evenings.

The latest issue of the Nebraska School Activities Association Bulletin reveals that Jerry Lee, new Husker track coach, has gone right to work on the job of rebuilding Nebraska enthusiasm for the cinder sport.

A new event on the prep sports calendar has been instituted—a cross country run. It is set for the morning of Oct. 30, preceding the Nebraska-Missouri football game . . . No team championships will be awarded, but medals will be awarded the first ten placers.

Biggest surprise on check-out day at Nebraska was the appearance of Bill Giles, the Alliance letterman who took such an active part in the uprising against Glassford . . . Evidently Giles had a change of heart.

Grid Camp Visited By Chancellor

Interest 'High,' Players Are Told

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska football players and the coaching staff played host to Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin Thursday afternoon before venturing into the hot sun for a rugged workout.

Chancellor Hardin told the boys he had just returned from a tour of the state and had found interest in the Cornhuskers "tremendously high."

"I can assure you that the entire state is behind you," Dr. Hardin said.

Injuries and illness were the sour notes Thursday. Head Trainer Paul Schneider was hospitalized at St. Elizabeth's with a 104 degree temperature. The exact nature of his ailment has not been diagnosed yet.

Joining Dick Moore on the injured list were Quarterback Chuck Smith of Franklin, N.H., and Don Hewitt, No. 1 right end from Des Moines, Ia. Both boys were hospitalized with jammed knees. Moore, who received a leg cut, has been jogging but will miss heavy work for several days.

Smith was hurt on a handoff play, while Hewitt twisted his knee trying to snare a pass from defender Don Comstock. Hewitt is expected back Monday.

Gale Lair, Omaha guard, checked in with a twisted ankle, but the training room crew okayed him for duty Thursday afternoon.

One position change was announced by Coach Bill Glassford. Ken Kunes, 190-pound senior from Maywood, Ill., has been moved from tackle to guard in an effort to add weight in that department.

Glassford has slated a long pass scrimmage for Friday morning and will follow with a defensive scrimmage during the afternoon session.

Saturday afternoon the Huskers will engage in semi-game, with everything scheduled but kickoffs.

Thursday afternoon was devoted to a rotary scrimmage, with half the line working at a time. The morning round featured punt returns and plenty of kicking.

Working as receivers were Ron Clark of Ravenna and Bob Smith of Grand Island; Willie Greenlaw of Portland, Me., and Don Comstock of Scottsbluff; and Dennis Korinek of Ulysses and Harry Johnson of Valley.

Clark, Greenlaw, Don Erway of Lincoln and John Edwards of North Platte handled the punting.

Glassford singled out Schuyler's Bill Holloran as a fellow he's expecting to aid a great deal in bolstering the line. Holloran in the past has been bothered by the waistline, but he trimmed down this summer and appears to have a No. 1 tackle spot under thumb.

Left Ends—Andy Loehr of Turtle Creek, Pa., LeRoy Butherus of Lincoln, Dean Lux of North Bend, Ted Westervelt of Scottsbluff and Gordon Benson of Ong.

Centers—Bob Oberlin of West Allis, Wis., Bob Bergum of Sioux Falls, S. D., LaVern Torczon of Platte Center, Doran Post of Shelton and Bill Glandt of Omaha.

Right tackles—Don Glantz of Central City, Pet Evans of Rapid City, S.D., Jack Fleming of Kimball, Mark Loncar of North Platte and Moore.

Right Ends—Don Hewitt of Des Moines, Ia., Al Deines of Scottsbluff, Jack Braley of Miles City, Mont., Derwin Blair of Cozad, Bill Giles of Alliance and Bill Carber of Randolph.

Quarterbacks—Rex Fischer of Oakland, Dan Brown of Sioux Falls, S. D., Don Erway of Lincoln, Smith, Don Margheim of Gering and Gordon Englert of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Fullbacks—Smith, Edwards, Jim Yender of Coin, Ia., and Ken Moore of Mt. Vernon, Ia.

Sidelights . . . Glassford is seeking 22 men as a first string. He may not alternate a team a quarter, but wants 22 top men available . . . Triple-threaters are Erway, Clark and Greenlaw . . . Chief student manager is Senior John C. Morrow of Columbus. Adding a confusing note is John C. Morrow of Kearney who is a sophomore manager along with Chuck Fike of Omaha. Pressed into service in the managerial department are young Gary Glassford (Bill's boy) and Bill Orwig (Bill's boy).

Brion, Norkus To Open Fight Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Madison Square Garden opens its fall-winter boxing season tonight with a pair of heavyweights. Cesar Brion of Argentina and Charley Norkus of Bellerose, N. Y., as the headline attraction.

Brion, making his first U.S. appearance in over a year, is a 5-8 favorite to score his second victory over the 26-year-old ex-Marine.

The 10-rounder, starting at 8 p.m. CST, will be broadcast and telecast by NBC.

The Fans Won This One

Farewell Night Tonight For Sherman Field Play

Andy Bush To Pitch Home Finale; Wright Loses Heartbreaker, 1-0

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Tonight's Farewell Night at Sherman Field.

Lincoln's Chiefs will be making their final home appearance of the 1954 season here and the opposition will be the Des Moines Bruins who Thursday night took the second game of the final series, 1-0, on the strength of a ninth inning home run by Les Peden.

Picked by Manager Red McQuillen to toil for the last time before the homefolks tonight is Andy Bush, the club's No. 1 hurler with an 18-4 mark. Des Moines will toss Paul Menking (12-9).

Since only 639 witnessed the game Thursday night, a crowd of at least 1,763 is needed to hit the 80,000 mark and General Manager Bill Herring is hoping for a turnaway crowd to use as a talking point when he tries to line up a major league "angel." A good final turnout would indicate that baseball is wanted in Lincoln.

As a special attraction tonight, the winners of the "Most Valuable Player" and the "Most Popular Player" voting will be announced and the players honored.

Write down Thursday night's game as a heartbreaker deluxe, but Roger Wright can have one consolation when he departs for his home in Dyersburg, Tenn., today.

Every one of the 639 persons present felt just as bad as he did when Peden calmly poked his 23rd homer over the leftfield wall.

Until that fatal moment there had been talk of a long night and many extra innings. For Wright and Bruin Don Elston were locked in one of the tightest pitching duels seen at Sherman Field during the 1954 campaign.

At the end of eight frames only two hits were recorded for each side and the scoreboard was adorned with 16 zeroes. As Rog forced Dave Cunningham to ground out and dangerous Jim McDaniel to go down swinging, optimism grew, for Lincoln had the top of the order up in the ninth.

But there was one more hit to be made and there was never any question about when it was made or where it was going. With Peden's second winning margin homer in as many nights registered. Wright was en route to his 13th loss against eight wins for Elston quickly disposed of John Jones, Burt Greenstein and Andy Anderson in the bottom of the ninth.

A Des Moines threat in the fifth—second and third occupied on the strength of a single, a walk and a sacrifice—went by the boards and Wright got El Tappe and Elston to ground out.

A double by Joe Christian in the home fifth was the nearest Lincoln could come to scoring. But George Wegerek and Wright popped out and that was that.

The shutout, Elston's ninth for the season, established a new record for shutouts hurled in one season in the Western League.

Wegerek provided some top notch fielding during the evening, making a great backhand stab of Peden's grounder and firing to first in time to cut The Spoiler down. His handling of a couple of fly balls was superb, too.

K. C. Wise of Des Moines also added luster to the pitching battle, spearing Walt Linden's pop fly by running hard and away in the second.

But all this was Thursday night. Tonight is the last chance to see Western League ball here until next summer and a full house is needed.

With Andy Bush on the mound another fine pitching performance may be in the making. Game time is 8 p. m.

Mantle's Homer Spoils Lemon's Bid For No. 21

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle smashed a home run into the right field stands in the sixth inning and Irv Noren robbed Hank Majeski of one in the eighth to help the New York Yankees conquer the Cleveland Indians 3-2 in the rubber of their final three-game series at Yankee Stadium Thursday.

The victory, a "must" for New York, sliced a full game off Cleveland's first place lead over the Yankees, which now stands at 3½ lengths. The Indians have 21 games left to play, the Yankees' 22.

Mantle's homer, a towering blast eight rows deep into the third deck, ignited a three-run outburst that offset homers by Sam Dente and Larry Doby and shattered Bob Lemon's 11-straight winning streak. A pair of damaging errors by Cleveland first baseman Vic Wertz, a pass to Noren and Andy Carey's clutch single furnished the two other runs.

A crowd of 39,494 witnessed a brilliant pitching duel between Lemon and Whitey Ford, the ace Yankee southpaw, who had won nine of his last 10 starts. Each pitcher allowed only three hits, but Lemon was unfortunate enough to permit two of them in the fatal sixth.

Neither Lemon nor Ford went the distance. The Cleveland righthander, and the league's only 20-game winner, gave way to Hal Newhouser in the eighth. He was charged with the loss, his sixth. Ford needed help from Allie Reynolds in the ninth after Doby had walloped his 29th home run with one out to cut the Yankees' margin to 3-2.

Reynolds walked Al Rosen on four pitches to raise the Indians' hopes, but he quickly snuffed out Vic Wertz on a foul pop and got Dave Philley to bounce into a game-ending force play.

Ford, credited with his 16th triumph against seven defeats, had shown signs of tiring in the eighth. With one out, he issued his first walk, on four pitches to pinch hitter Rudy Regalado. Majeski, another pinch hitter, then sent a long high drive that appeared destined to go into the lower left field stands. In fact, it did, but Noren raced back, leaned far over the low railing and grabbed the ball.

Mantle, in a dismal slump, having collected only four hits in his last 35 times at bat, opened the Yankee sixth with his tremendous homer, a drive of about 450 feet, to tie the score at 1-1. It was his 27th of the season. After Enos Slaughter had grounded out, Joe Collins rapped a hard grounder that took a bad bounce and caromed off Wertz's glove into right field for two-base error. When Collins advanced to third on Yogi Berra's infield out, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez ordered Noren passed intentionally to get at the righthanded hitting Carey. The Yankee third baseman upset this strategy by ramming a single to left, scoring Collins with the lead run and sending Noren to third.

Nats Trample Detroit, 16-6

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy Sievers and Mickey Vernon led an 18-hit Washington assault that dumped the Detroit Tigers 16-6 today. Among Vernon's three hits was the 2,000th of his major league career. Sievers drove in seven runs and hit his 23rd homer, an all-time high for a Washington player.

Vernon and Jim Busby also homered as the Senators handed Bob Porterfield his 12th victory of the season. Vernon's homer, his 19th, also set a record, for no other left-handed Washington hitter ever had collected more than 18 in a season.

Ned Garver, Billy Hoeft and Dick Marlowe suffered through the Washington base hit barrage, the club's highest of the season. A total of but 1,260 was on hand to watch the contest.

3 Big Innings

The Senators had three big innings, a five-run third capped by a three-run double by Sievers; a four-run fourth highlighted by a two-run homer by Sievers and a four-run seventh in which Vernon whacked a three-run homer.

The previous home run mark for a Washington player, 22, was set in 1938 by Zeke Bonura. The 18-homer standard for a left-handed player was shared by three of Vernon's predecessors, Goose Goslin, Stan Spence and Eddie Robinson.

Vernon ran the number of hits in his 14-year career to 2,002. Only 94 previous players in major league history had made the 2,000-hit club.

Leo's Superstitious, So Lippy's Wife Can't Talk

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS)—Laraine Day Durocher may be chewing her nails over the New York Giants' pennant drive, but if so she's not exhibiting her manicure to let the world know it.

In fact the pretty wife of Giant Manager Leo Durocher won't admit anything except that she's married to "a very superstitious man."

"So I can't say anything about the Giants," she expalined Wednesday. "Leo is very superstitious, the team is very superstitious too, and they don't like me to talk about the Giants.

"I guess they think it's like counting chickens before they're hatched."

More Cause

Today, Mrs. Durocher will have additional cause for nail-chewing. The Giants are three games ahead of their National League archrivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

MRS. DUROCHER

But tonight—ah! tonight the Dodgers and the Giants start a three-game week-end series, and a sweep by the Dodgers could mean the pennant!

Laraine Durocher will be watching the series from her usual box behind the Giant dugout. She flew back from the Durochers' Beverly Hills, Calif., home Wednesday just so she could root for her team.

Any predictions as to the games' result will have to come from husband Leo, who is not known as "Lippy" because of his long silences.

"I'm just not going to talk about the Giants," Laraine repeated emphatically.

But the manager's wife gave a strong hint that she believes Durocher's boys will nail down the championship.

"The year the Giants won the pennant," she pointed out, "they didn't want me to talk either."

That was in 1951, when the Giants took the flag in a dramatic playoff from the Dodgers. That year, the Dodgers were ahead until the last day of the season.

It was also the year when the former actress from Utah proved her enthusiasm for baseball, an enthusiasm she admits acquiring only after marrying Durocher in 1947, when he was managing Brooklyn.

Baseball scribes recorded that one bitterly contested play in the Dodger-Giant battle of 1951 made the soft-voiced Laraine yell so loud and long that Hubby Durocher climbed out of the dugout and told her "to please shut up."

The baseball writers regarded this as a definite case of man biting dog.

Only two things will insure the Lincoln Chiefs' return to Sherman Field in 1955—a full-fledged tieup with a major league club and local money.

Schimmel

If the requirements are fulfilled Lincoln will have baseball, if they are not you can look for a dull summer. It's just that simple.

With the hiring of Bill Herring to look after the interests of the Chiefs during the winter months, the club's board of directors have moved to try and solve the major league affiliation problem.

☆ ☆ ☆

While it obviously would be better to have a manager headquartered in Lincoln, it is generally recognized that you can't pick up top notch baseball business managers for only short time service. Also, Herring seems confident that he can handle the paper work from his home at Goldsboro, N.C. and even more important that he can secure a major league agreement.

Bill puts it this way:

"Lincoln cannot continue its operation in the Western League under the present setup. Without a major league club in charge, the costs—talent-hunting, travel, payroll, meals and all—are prohibitive.

"The board of directors realizes this to be true and are anxious for a major league hook-up and, while I can't commit myself now, I feel that the prospects for such an affiliation and Lincoln baseball in 1955 are very good."

Reason behind Herring's interim appointment is twofold. First, when the major league club takes over it would probably want to name its own general manager and field manager and second, Herring, rightly enough, doesn't want to be obligated here if he gets a chance to step up to a more lucrative spot. Both these reasons also apply to Manager Red McQuillen.

Local money is needed badly in order to show the major league team that Lincoln wants baseball and to guarantee support. This may prove to be the stickler after two consecutive fund drives.

But since the issue is clear cut—major league and local money—the way ahead is obvious. Herring will handle the major league end and the baseball fans of Lincoln, as well as the other people who realize—or should—that the city benefits from baseball in many ways must solve the other problem.

Club President A. Q. Schimmel and the board of directors want baseball and are exerting all their energies in an effort to preserve it, but the remark of a pal of ours who is a real baseball lover—not one of the renowned Lincoln fair weather followers—hits it squarely on the head:

"If a lot of other people in town were working as hard for baseball as A. Q., we'd be out of the woods."

Finding the major league team to pick up Lincoln may prove to be a formidable hurdle. The big clubs are reluctant to have more than one Class A underling and with most of the Western League teams already under the wing of a parent club, the field for Herring is somewhat limited.

Without a doubt it's a tough problem, but it is certainly one that deserves a great deal of earnest thought.

Lincoln would be a mighty boring place to dwell in the hot summer months without baseball to talk about and Sherman Field to visit on those sweltering evenings.

The latest issue of the Nebraska School Activities Association Bulletin reveals that Jerry Lee, new Husker track coach, has gone right to work on the job of rebuilding Nebraska enthusiasm for the cinder sport.

A new event on the prep sports calendar has been instituted—a cross country run. It is set for the morning of Oct. 30, preceding the Nebraska-Missouri football game . . . No team championships will be awarded, but medals will be awarded the first ten placers.

Biggest surprise on check-out day at Nebraska was the appearance of Bill Giles, the Alliance letterman who took such an active part in the uprising against Glassford . . . Evidently Giles had a change of heart.

Grid Camp Visited By Chancellor

Interest 'High,' Players Are Told

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska football players and the coaching staff played host to Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin Thursday afternoon before venturing into the hot sun for a rugged workout.

Chancellor Hardin told the boys he had just returned from a tour of the state and had found interest in the Cornhuskers "tremendously high."

"I can assure you that the entire state is behind you," Dr. Hardin said.

Injuries and illness were the sour notes Thursday. Head Trainer Paul Schneider was hospitalized at St. Elizabeth's with a 104 degree temperature. The exact nature of his ailment has not been diagnosed yet.

Joining Dick Moore on the injured list were Quarterback Chuck Smith of Franklin, N.H., and Don Hewitt, No. 1 right end from Des Moines, Ia. Both boys were hospitalized with jammed knees. Moore, who received a leg cut, has been jogging but will miss heavy work for several days.

Smith was hurt on a handoff play, while Hewitt twisted his knee trying to snare a pass from defender Don Comstock. Hewitt is expected back Monday.

Gale Lair, Omaha guard, checked in with a twisted ankle, but the training room crew okayed him for duty Thursday afternoon.

One position change was announced by Coach Bill Glassford. Ken Kunes, 190-pound senior from Maywood, Ill., has been moved from tackle to guard in an effort to add weight in that department.

Glassford has slated a long pass scrimmage for Friday morning and will follow with a defensive scrimmage during the afternoon session.

Saturday afternoon the Huskers will engage in semi-game, with everything scheduled but kickoffs.

Thursday afternoon was devoted to a rotary scrimmage, with half the line working at a time. The morning round featured punt returns and plenty of kicking.

Working as receivers were Ron Clark of Ravenna and Bob Smith of Grand Island; Willie Greenlaw of Portland, Me., and Don Comstock of Scottsbluff; and Dennis Korinek of Ulysses and Harry Johnson of Valley.

Clark, Greenlaw, Don Erway of Lincoln and John Edwards of North Platte handled the punting.

Glassford singled out Schuyler's Bill Holloran as a fellow he's expecting to aid a great deal in bolstering the line. Holloran in the past has been bothered by the waistline, but he trimmed down this summer and appears to have a No. 1 tackle spot under thumb.

Right Ends—Don Hewitt of Des Moines, Ia., Al Deines of Scottsbluff, Jack Braley of Miles City, Mont., Dorwin Blair of Cezar, Bill Giles of Alliance and Bill Garber of Randolph.

Quarterbacks—Rex Fischer of Oakland, Dan Brown of Sioux Falls, S. D., Don Erway of Lincoln, Smith, Don Margheim of Gering and Gordon Englert of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Fullbacks—Smith, Edwards, Jim Yeisley of Coin, Ia., and Ken Moore of Mt. Vernon, Ia.

Sidelights . . . Glassford is seeking 22 men as a first string. He may not alternate a team a quarter, but wants 22 top men available . . . Triple-threaters are Erway, Clark and Greenlaw . . . Chief student manager is Senior John C. Morrow of Columbus. Adding a confusing note is John C. Morrow of Kearney who is a sophomore manager along with Chuck Fike of Omaha. Pressed into service in the managerial department are young Gary Glassford (Bill's boy) and Bill Orwig (Bill's boy).

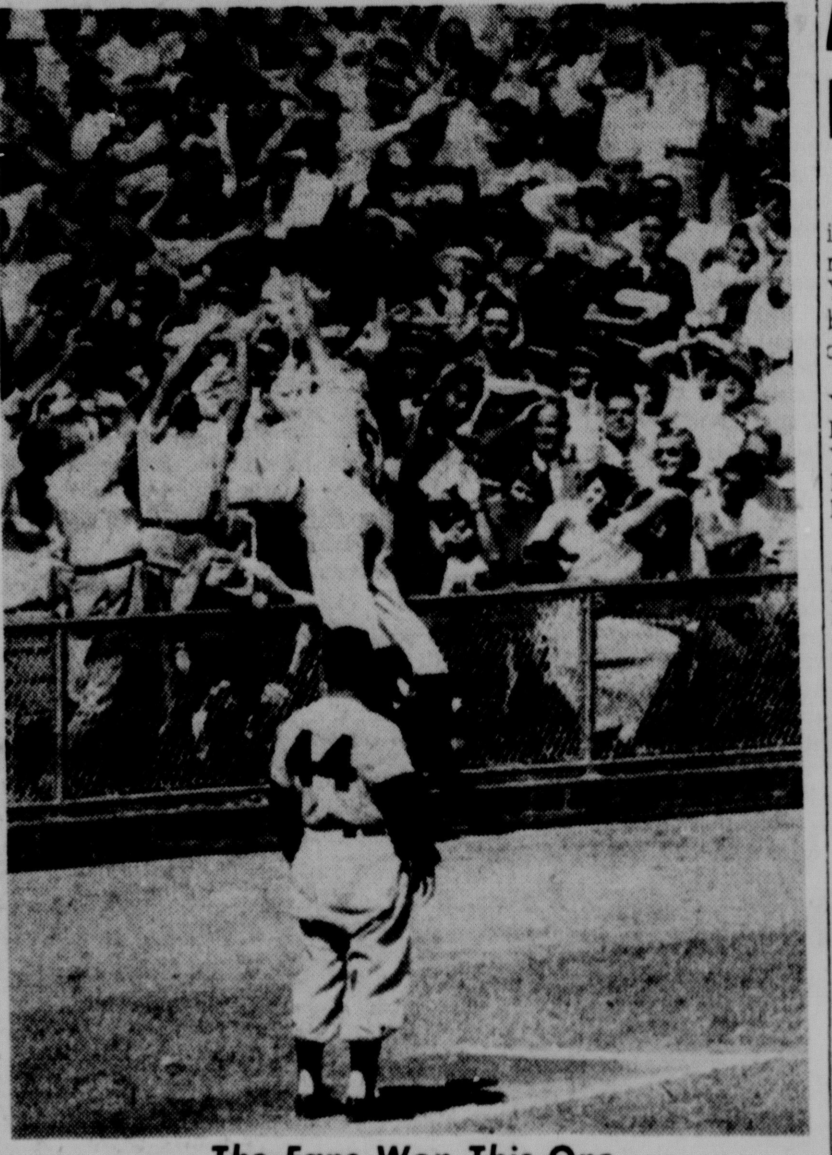
Brion, Norkus To Open Fight Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden opens its fall-winter boxing season tonight with a pair of heavyweights, Cesar Brion of Argentina and Charley Norkus of Bellerose, N. Y., as the headline attraction.

Brion, making his first U.S. appearance in over a year, is a 5-8 favorite to score his second victory over the 26-year-old ex-Marine.

The 10-rounder, starting at 8 p.m. CST, will be broadcast and telecast by NBC.



The Fans Won This One

Farewell Night Tonight For Sherman Field Play

Andy Bush To Pitch Home Finale; Wright Loses Heartbreaker, 1-0

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Tonight's Farewell Night at Sherman Field.

Lincoln's Chiefs will be making their final home appearance of the 1954 season here and the opposition will be the Des Moines Bruins who Thursday night took the second game of the final series, 1-0, on the strength of a ninth inning home run by Les Peden.

Picked by Manager Red McQuillen to toil for the last time before the homefolks tonight is Andy Bush, the club's No. 1 hurler with an 18-4 mark. Des Moines will toss Paul Menking (12-9).

Since only 639 witnessed the game Thursday night, a crowd of at least 1,763 is needed to hit the 80,000 mark and General Manager Bill Herring is hoping for a turnaway crowd to use as a talking point when he tries to line up a major league "angel." A good final turnout would indicate that baseball is wanted in Lincoln.

As a special attraction tonight, the winners of the "Most Valuable Player" and the "Most Popular Player" voting will be announced and the players honored.

Write down Thursday night's game as a heartbreaker deluxe, but Roger Wright can have one consolation when he departs for his home in Dyersburg, Tenn., today.

Every one of the 639 persons present felt just as bad as he did when Peden calmly poked his 23rd homer over the leftfield wall.

Until that fatal moment there had been talk of a long night and many extra innings. For Wright and Bruin Don Elston were locked in one of the tightest pitching duels seen at Sherman Field during the 1954 campaign.

At the end of eight frames only two hits were recorded for each side and the scoreboard was adorned with 16 zeroes. As Rog forced Dave Cunningham to ground out and dangerous Jim McDaniel to go down swinging, optimism grew, for Lincoln had the top of the order up in the ninth.

But there was one more hit to be made and there was never any question about when it was made or where it was going. With Peden's second winning margin homer in as many nights registered, Wright was en route to his 13th loss against eight wins for Elston quickly disposed of John Jones, Burt Greenstein and Andy Anderson in the bottom of the ninth.

A Des Moines threat in the fifth—second and third occupied on the strength of a single, a walk and a sacrifice—went by the boards and Wright got El Tappe and Elston to ground out.

A double by Joe Christian in the home fifth was the nearest Lincoln could come to scoring. But George Wegerek and Wright popped out and that was that.

The shutout, Elston's ninth for the season, established a new record for shutouts hurled in one season in the Western League.

Wegerek provided some top notch fielding during the evening, making a great backhand stab of Peden's grounder and firing to first in time to cut The Spoiler down. His handling of a couple of fly balls was superb, too.

K. C. Wise of Des Moines also added luster to the pitching battle, spearing Walt Linden's pop fly by running hard and away in the second.

But all this was Thursday night. Tonight is the last chance to see Western League ball here until next summer and a full house is needed.

With Andy Bush on the mound another fine pitching performance may be in the making. Game time is 8 p. m.

Mantle's Homer Spoils Lemon's Bid For No. 21

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle smashed a home run into the right field stands in the sixth inning and Irv Noren robbed Hank Majeski of one in the eighth to help the New York Yankees conquer the Cleveland Indians 3-2 in the rubber of their final three-game series at Yankee Stadium Thursday.

The victory, a "must" for New York, sliced a full game off Cleveland's first place lead over the Yankees, which now stands at 3½ lengths. The Indians have 21 games left to play, the Yankees' 22.

Mantle's homer, a towering blast eight rows deep into the third deck, ignited a three-run outburst that offset homers by Sam Dente and Larry Doby and shattered Bob Lemon's 11-straight winning streak. A pair of damaging errors by Cleveland first baseman Vic Wertz, a pass to Noren and Andy Carey's clutch single furnished the two other runs.

A crowd of 39,494 witnessed a brilliant pitching duel between Lemon and Whitey Ford, the ace Yankee southpaw, who had won nine of his last 10 starts. Each pitcher allowed only three hits, but Lemon was unfortunate enough to permit two of them in the fatal sixth.

Neither Lemon nor Ford went the distance. The Cleveland righthander, and the league's only 20-game winner, gave way to Hal Newhouser in the eighth. He was charged with the loss, his sixth. Ford needed help from Allie Reynolds in the ninth after Doby had walloped his 29th home run with one out to cut the Yankees' margin to 3-2.

Reynolds walked Al Rosen on four pitches to raise the Indians' hopes, but he quickly snuffed out Vic Wertz on a foul pop and got Dave Philley to bounce into a game-ending force play.

Ford, credited with his 16th triumph against seven defeats, had shown signs of tiring in the eighth. With one out, he issued his first walk, on four pitches to pinch hitter Rudy Regalado. Majeski, another pinch hitter, then sent a long high drive that appeared destined to go into the lower left field stands. In fact, it did, but Noren raced back, leaned far over the low railing and grabbed the ball.

Mantle, in a dismal slump, having collected only four hits in his last 35 times at bat, opened the Yankee sixth with his tremendous homer, a drive of about 450 feet, to tie the score at 1-1. It was his 27th of the season. After Enos Slaughter had grounded out, Joe Collins rapped a hard grounder that took a bad bounce and caromed off Wertz's glove into right field for two-base error. When Collins advanced to third on Yogi Berra's infield out, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez ordered Noren passed intentionally to get at the righthanded hitting Carey. The Yankee third baseman upset this strategy by ramming a single to left, scoring Collins with the lead run and sending Noren to third.

Nats Trample Detroit, 16-6

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy Sievers and Mickey Vernon led an 18-hit Washington assault that dumped the Detroit Tigers 16-6 today. Among Vernon's three hits was the 2,000th of his major league career. Sievers drove in seven runs and hit his 23rd homer, an all-time high for a Washington player.

Vernon and Jim Busby also homered as the Senators handed Bob Porterfield his 12th victory of the season. Vernon's homer, his 19th, also set a record, for no other left-handed Washington hitter ever had collected more than 18 in a season.

Ned Garver, Billy Hoeft and Dick Marlowe suffered through the Washington base hit barrage, the club's highest of the season. A total of but 1,260 was on hand to watch the contest.

3 Big Innings

The Senators had three big innings, a five-run third capped by a three-run double by Sievers; a four-run fourth highlighted by a two-run homer by Sievers and a four-run seventh in which Vernon whacked a three-run homer.

The previous home run mark for a Washington player, 22, was set in 1938 by Zeke Bonura. The 18-homer standard for a left-handed player was shared by three of Vernon's predecessors, Goose Goslin, Stan Spence and Eddie Robinson.

Vernon ran the number of hits in his 14-year career to 2,002. Only 94 previous players in major league history had made the 2,000-hit club.

Richards Faces Double Foe--Moguls, Indians

White Sox To Meet League Leaders In 3-Game Series; Manager Will Confer With Comiskeys

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — In addition to meeting the league-leading Cleveland Indians in a three-game series starting tonight, the Chicago White Sox also are scheduled for a meeting of minds in the front office.

Victory may be difficult in each case.

Manager Paul Richards leads his third-place Sox back into town after a long Eastern swing with rumors accompanying him about a showdown on a new contract.

Richards signed with the Comiskeys for one year in 1951. Late in the 1952 season, he was given a two-year contract, which expires after the close of the present season.

'No One Knows'

No one knows what Richards has in mind when the scheduled talks with General Manager Frank Lane, President Mrs. Grace Comiskey, Vice President Chuck Comiskey and other board members are held within the next few days.

One report is that Richards' price for remaining with the White Sox is a three year contract and that the Comiskeys do not favor a pact of more than two years.

Lane has admitted that he gave Clarence W. Miles, president of the Baltimore Orioles, permission to talk to Richards concerning the job of general manager, but not field manager.

Reports Denied

This followed reports last week that the Orioles coveted Richards' services. The reports officially were denied.

Richards, who has let Lane know that he considers a top front office job a logical step upwards, denied he had conferred with Miles. He did reveal, however, that several weeks ago in Chicago, Hugh Trader, Baltimore baseball writer, had asked if he would be interested in the job.

Richards also reportedly told Lane that he didn't want to leave Chicago and all things being to his satisfaction he wouldn't leave.

5-Year Extension

Incidentally, it was a flattering Baltimore offer shortly after the franchise shift from St. Louis that Lane wielded in a talk with the Comiskeys. The talks resulted in a five-year extension of Lane's contract, which had two more years to go, and brought about the resignation of a long time board member, who insisted the club hold its general manager to his original contract.

"I might say that if Paul is lured away it will not be because he's underpaid by the Sox," Lane has been quoted as saying. "Only Casey Stengel of the Yankees draws a bigger paycheck among the league's managers. And I am sure Richards' salary will be increased in any new contract offer."

Richards' current salary has been estimated at $30,000 plus a bonus of "a nickel a head" after attendance has passed one million. Home attendance at present is 1,032,297.

One White Sox baseball writer close to the scene has said:

"What Lane doesn't know yet, nor does anyone else, is whether Richards will accept the (new) contract, unless something in manager and general manager relationship—which have nothing to do with salary, bonus or duration of the contract—are changed and stay changed to suit him.

Mickey Vernon Passes 2,000 Total Hit Mark

By HERB ALTSCHULL

MICKEY VERNON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mickey Vernon, Washington's tall, dark and silent first baseman, moved into one of baseball's more select circles Thursday by going over the 2,000 mark in total hits.

Only 94 other players had turned that trick and only two of them are still active—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Enos Slaughter of the New York Yankees.

Vernon, who has won the American League batting championship twice, wasted no time Thursday in whacking out the hit that counted. He belted a single to right off Detroit's Ned Garver in the first inning.

Play Stopped

Play was stopped momentarily and Vernon's feat was reported over the public address system. The ball was thrown to Coach Heinie Manus to hold for Vernon.

Vernon went right on hitting after that, getting a single and a home run, his 19th of the year. He broke another record with his homer, for no other left-handed hitter ever had hit that many with a Washington club.

The mark of 18 was shared by three predecessors.

Mickey, whose taciturnity sometimes rivals that of Charlie Gehringer, the great Detroit "silent man," said getting that 2,000th hit was quite a thrill but that he remembered a greater one.

That came on the opening day of the current season when Vernon beat the Yankees with a 10th inning home run before a sellout crowd that included President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The President called Mickey over to his box and warmly congratulated him.

"That was my biggest thrill," Vernon said.

Now 36 years old, Vernon has been having one of his better seasons. His 2,000th hit was his 155th of the season and kept him at just about the .300 mark.

Record Crowd Of 18,284 Sees Omaha Cards Beat Soos, 8-2

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals defeated the Sioux City Soos, 8-2, Thursday night at Omaha Stadium before the all-time record Omaha baseball crowd. The attendance was announced at 18,284, more than one thousand over the previous of 17,079.

The former record was set in 1951 at an exhibition game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Omaha.

Manager Andy Anderson's Redbirds sparkled before the huge crowd. Ron Kump pitched a steady nine-hit game to win his 13th of the season. He was backed by good fielding which included two snappy double plays and a 10-hit attack.

The record crowd came as guests of Omaha Station KMTV which bought out the ball park and gave free tickets to all seeking them.

Gopher Search For Fast Line Continues

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's search for a hardhitting and acceptably fast split-T line produced two more position shifts Thursday as Coach Murray Warmath again accented offensive drills.

Sophomore Harold Drescher, a tackle, was moved up to first string guard and guard Mike Falls, a regular for most of the 1953 season, was switched to tackle. Warmath Wednesday installed center Jerry Helgeson at guard.

Warmath ordered the Gophers through a lengthy passing drill, with quarterback candidates Geno Cappelletti, Don Swanson and Dale Quist doing the throwing.

Punts, Place Kick Drills For Illini

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Punting and place-kicking drills drew attention at Illinois Thursday since Coach Ray Eliot must replace Kenny Miller who handled both jobs most of the 1953 season.

Miller, a fullback, was graduated. Leading candidates among the punters are Bob Gongola, quarterback, and Abe Woodson and J. C. Caroline, halfbacks.

Undergoing tests as extra point kickers are Bob Wiman, who saw some service last season, and Jan Smid, Hiles Stout, George Walash and Clem Ryan. Gongola's punting ability could be a determining factor in his battle with Em Lindbeck for the quarterback post.

Cyclones Get Two Scrimmage Drills

AMES, Ia. (AP) — Iowa State received a double dose of scrimmage Thursday in its two-a-day football drills.

The Cyclone gridders also got individual attention toward polishing their offensive plays.

Kim Tidd, letterman end, will enter the college hospital for a knee operation. He is expected to be out about two weeks. Tidd, who injured the knee last fall in a game, might miss the Sept. 18 opener against South Dakota State.

Capital City Boys At Faribault Prep

FARIBAULT—Two Lincoln boys are out for the Shattuck School team here.

They are William Watson and Tom Turner.

Seven lettermen are back at Shattuck. The club faces a seven game schedule starting with Bethlehem Academy of Faribault Sept. 18.

Cabral From End To Tackle For ND

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Walt Cabral, two-year letterman from Hawaii, moved from end to right tackle Thursday in Notre Dame's first personnel shift of pre-season football training.

In a dummy scrimmage, Coach Terry Brennan tried several combinations in an effort to find halfback and fullback replacements for the graduated Johnny Lattner and Neil Worden.

Penn State Staff Gets New Chore

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Penn State's football coaching staff has taken on a new chore in training the 1954 Nittany Lions.

Coach Rip Engle said his assistants agreed to take turns spending after-practice hours with the players in their fraternity house quarters for the duration of pre-season drills.

Tigers Pass Up Morning Practice

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The University of Missouri football squad passed up its morning workout Thursday to spend the time studying defense in a blackboard session and worked on plays Thursday afternoon in preparation for a drill on defense today.

Coach Don Faurot said that loss of two of his ace defenders in the secondary, Bob Schoonmaker and Ed Marrifield, by graduation last spring and the number of sophomore linemen who must learn the M. U. defense pattern makes the task of building defense unusually important this year.

Richards Faces Double Foe--Moguls, Indians

White Sox To Meet League Leaders In 3-Game Series; Manager Will Confer With Comiskeys

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — In addition to meeting the league-leading Cleveland Indians in a three-game series starting tonight, the Chicago White Sox also are scheduled for a meeting of minds in the front office.

Victory may be difficult in each case.

Manager Paul Richards leads his third-place Sox back into town after a long Eastern swing with rumors accompanying him about a showdown on a new contract.

Richards signed with the Comiskeys for one year in 1951. Late in the 1952 season, he was given a two-year contract, which expires after the close of the present season.

'No One Knows'

No one knows what Richards has in mind when the scheduled talks with General Manager Frank Lane, President Mrs. Grace Comiskey, Vice President Chuck Comiskey and other board members are held within the next few days.

One report is that Richards' price for remaining with the White Sox is a three year contract and that the Comiskeys do not favor a pact of more than two years.

Lane has admitted that he gave Clarence W. Miles, president of the Baltimore Orioles, permission to talk to Richards concerning the job of general manager, but not field manager.

Reports Denied

This followed reports last week that the Orioles coveted Richards' services. The reports officially were denied.

Richards, who has let Lane know that he considers a top front office job a logical step upwards, denied he had conferred with Miles. He did reveal, however, that several weeks ago in Chicago, Hugh Trader, Baltimore baseball writer, had asked if he would be interested in the job.

Richards also reportedly told Lane that he didn't want to leave Chicago and all things being to his satisfaction he wouldn't leave.

5-Year Extension

Incidentally, it was a flattering Baltimore offer shortly after the franchise shift from St. Louis that Lane wielded in a talk with the Comiskeys. The talks resulted in a five-year extension of Lane's contract, which had two more years to go, and brought about the resignation of a long time board member, who insisted the club hold its general manager to his original contract.

"I might say that if Paul is lured away it will not be because he's underpaid by the Sox," Lane has been quoted as saying. "Only Casey Stengel of the Yankees draws a bigger paycheck among the league's managers. And I am sure Richards' salary will be increased in any new contract offer."

Richards' current salary has been estimated at $30,000 plus a bonus of "a nickel a head" after attendance has passed one million. Home attendance at present is 1,032,297.

One White Sox baseball writer close to the scene has said:

"What Lane doesn't know yet, nor does anyone else, is whether Richards will accept the (new) contract, unless something in manager and general manager relationship—which have nothing to do with salary, bonus or duration of the contract—are changed and stay changed to suit him.

Mickey Vernon Passes 2,000 Total Hit Mark

By HERB ALTSCHULL

MICKEY VERNON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mickey Vernon, Washington's tall, dark and silent first baseman, moved into one of baseball's more select circles Thursday by going over the 2,000 mark in total hits.

Only 94 other players had turned that trick and only two of them are still active—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Enos Slaughter of the New York Yankees.

Vernon, who has won the American League batting championship twice, wasted no time Thursday in whacking out the hit that counted. He belted a single to right off Detroit's Ned Garver in the first inning.

Play Stopped

Play was stopped momentarily and Vernon's feat was reported over the public address system. The ball was thrown to Coach Heinie Manus to hold for Vernon.

Vernon went right on hitting after that, getting a single and a home run, his 19th of the year. He broke another record with his homer, for no other left-handed hitter ever had hit that many with a Washington club.

The mark of 18 was shared by three predecessors.

Mickey, whose taciturnity sometimes rivals that of Charlie Gehringer, the great Detroit "silent man," said getting that 2,000th hit was quite a thrill but that he remembered a greater one.

That came on the opening day of the current season when Vernon beat the Yankees with a 10th inning home run before a sellout crowd that included President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The President called Mickey over to his box and warmly congratulated him.

"That was my biggest thrill," Vernon said.

Now 36 years old, Vernon has been having one of his better seasons. His 2,000th hit was his 155th of the season and kept him at just about the .300 mark.

Record Crowd Of 18,284 Sees Omaha Cards Beat Soos, 8-2

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals defeated the Sioux City Soos, 8-2, Thursday night at Omaha Stadium before the all-time record Omaha baseball crowd. The attendance was announced at 18,284, more than one thounsand over the previous of 17,079.

The former record was set in 1951 at an exhibition game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Omaha.

Manager Andy Anderson's Redbirds sparkled before the huge crowd. Ron Kump pitched a steady nine-hit game to win his 13th of the season. He was backed by good fielding which included two snappy double plays and a 10-hit attack.

The record crowd came as guests of Omaha Station KMTV which bought out the ball park and gave free tickets to all seeking them.

Gopher Search For Fast Line Continues

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's search for a hardhitting and acceptably fast split-T line produced two more position shifts Thursday as Coach Murray Warmath again accented offensive drills.

Sophomore Harold Drescher, a tackle, was moved up to first string guard and guard Mike Falls, a regular for most of the 1953 season, was switched to tackle. Warmath Wednesday installed center Jerry Helgeson at guard.

Warmath ordered the Gophers through a lengthy passing drill, with quarterback candidates Geno Cappelletti, Don Swanson and Dale Quist doing the throwing.

Punts, Place Kick Drills For Illini

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Punting and place-kicking drills drew attention at Illinois Thursday since Coach Ray Eliot must replace Kenny Miller who handled both jobs most of the 1953 season.

Miller, a fullback, was graduated. Leading candidates among the punters are Bob Gongola, quarterback, and Abe Woodson and J. C. Caroline, halfbacks.

Undergoing tests as extra point kickers are Bob Wiman, who saw some service last season, and Jan Smid, Hiles Stout, George Walash and Clem Ryan. Gongola's punting ability could be a determining factor in his battle with Em Lindbeck for the quarterback post.

Cyclones Get Two Scrimmage Drills

AMES, Ia. (AP) — Iowa State received a double dose of scrimmage Thursday in its two-a-day football drills.

The Cyclone gridders also got individual attention toward polishing their offensive plays.

Kim Tidd, letterman end, will enter the college hospital for a knee operation. He is expected to be out about two weeks. Tidd, who injured the knee last fall in a game, might miss the Sept. 18 opener against South Dakota State.

Capital City Boys At Faribault Prep

FARIBAULT—Two Lincoln boys are out for the Shattuck School team here.

They are William Watson and Tom Turner.

Cabral From End To Tackle For ND

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Walt Cabral, two-year letterman from Hawaii, moved from end to right tackle Thursday in Notre Dame's first personnel shift of pre-season football training.

In a dummy scrimmage, Coach Terry Brennan tried several combinations in an effort to find halfback and fullback replacements for the graduated Johnny Lattner and Neil Worden.

Penn State Staff Gets New Chore

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Penn State's football coaching staff has taken on a new chore in training the 1954 Nittany Lions.

Coach Rip Engle said his assistants agreed to take turns spending after-practice hours with the players in their fraternity house quarters for the duration of pre-season drills.

Tigers Pass Up Morning Practice

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The University of Missouri football squad passed up its morning workout Thursday to spend the time studying defense in a blackboard session and worked on plays Thursday afternoon in preparation for a drill on defense today.

Coach Don Faurot said that loss of two of his ace defenders in the secondary, Bob Schoonmaker and Ed Marrifield, by graduation last spring and the number of sophomore linemen who must learn the M. U. defense pattern makes the task of building defense unusually important this year.

Brooklyn Blasts Chicago By 10-2

Meyer Collects 16th In Row Over Cubs; Hodges Homers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Relentless Russ Meyer collected his 16th straight victory over Chicago Thursday as the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers simplified his pitching job with a seven-run fourth inning blast, touched off by Gil Hodges' two-run homer that buried the Cubs 10-2.

The 30-year-old righthander ended the Cubs' seven-game winning streak, scattering 11 hits including catcher Joe Garagiola's No. 5 homer in the fifth, scoring Dee Fondy ahead of him, and a single by Hank Sauer—his 1,000th hit as a major leaguer

The triumph, Meyer's sixth in a row over the Cubs this season and his 21st against two losses over the team that sold him six years ago, pulled the Dodgers to within three games of the league-leading New York Giants, who were idle.

Meyer hasn't lost to the Cubs since 1950.

Meet Giants Next

The Dodgers will open a three game series in New York Friday night after a 10-game road trip. They won seven of the 10.

Junior Gilliam's triple to start the first inning stretched his hitting streak through 11 games. He scored on Pee Wee Reese's single.

Lopata Homer Beats Haddix

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Lopata's three-run homer in the third inning—his 10th of the season and fourth off Harvey Haddix—Thursday led the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals as Robin Roberts posted his 19th triumph.

The victory gave the Phillies a sweep of a two-game series and kept them in fifth place, two full games ahead of the Cardinals.

Roberts, seeking his fifth straight 20-game season, allowed 13 hits, but hurled effectively in the pinches to hand the Cardinals their fifth straight setback and ninth in 11 contests. Haddix, failing a seventh time since July 30 for his 16th victory, was charged with his 11th loss.

The Phillies bunched six of their nine hits in the third inning, scoring four times with two out following singles by Willie Jones and Earl Torgeson. Danny Schell's pop safety accounted for one run, Lopata's homer blasted in three more and two additional hits sent Haddix to the showers.

Philadelphia's fifth run came in the fourth off Joe Presko on Earl Torgeson's fifth circuit smash.

Brooklyn Blasts Chicago By 10-2

Meyer Collects 16th In Row Over Cubs; Hodges Homers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Relentless Russ Meyer collected his 16th straight victory over Chicago Thursday as the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers simplified his pitching job with a seven-run fourth inning blast, touched off by Gil Hodges' two-run homer that buried the Cubs 10-2.

The 30-year-old righthander ended the Cubs' seven-game winning streak, scattering 11 hits including catcher Joe Garagiola's No. 5 homer in the fifth, scoring Dee Fondy ahead of him, and a single by Hank Sauer—his 1,000th hit as a major leaguer.

The triumph, Meyer's sixth in a row over the Cubs this season and his 21st against two losses over the team that sold him six years ago, pulled the Dodgers to within three games of the league-leading New York Giants, who were idle.

Meyer hasn't lost to the Cubs since 1950.

Meet Giants Next

The Dodgers will open a three game series in New York Friday night after a 10-game road trip. They won seven of the 10.

Junior Gilliam's triple to start the first inning stretched his hitting streak through 11 games. He scored on Pee Wee Reese's single.

Dave Cole, first of five Cub hurlers, yielded only one hit in the next two innings.

Lopata Homer Beats Haddix

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Lopata's three-run homer in the third inning—his 10th of the season and fourth off Harvey Haddix—Thursday led the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals as Robin Roberts posted his 19th triumph.

The victory gave the Phillies a sweep of a two-game series and kept them in fifth place, two full games ahead of the Cardinals.

Roberts, seeking his fifth straight 20-game season, allowed 13 hits, but hurled effectively in the pinches to hand the Cardinals their fifth straight setback and ninth in 11 contests. Haddix, failing a seventh time since July 30 for his 16th victory, was charged with his 11th loss.

The Phillies bunched six of their nine hits in the third inning, scoring four times with two out following singles by Willi3 Jones and Earl Torgeson. Danny Schell's pop safety accounted for one run, Lopata's homer blasted in three more and two additional hits sent Haddix to the showers.

Philadelphia's fifth run came in the fourth off Joe Presko on Earl Torgeson's fifth circuit smash.

STAN DELAPLANE'S
POSTCARD

Maria who sells flowers outside the Hotel Pan American in Guatemala City said business was terrible.

"I worked all evening, without food. See how many flowers are left."

She had a basketful of Guatemalan roses and bunches of violets. She said she hoped the tourists would come back soon to the land of the Quetzal.

As a matter of fact, the tourists are drifting in again already. You can spot the tourist ladies because they all try to dress like Indians. The Guatemalan ladies all try to dress like tourists.

The tourist ladies clank with silver. They drip with tropical flowers. Their skirts are embroidered in Quetzaltenango. They are tanned by Antigua suns. They are a curious sight.

As a matter fact, Guatemala is a lot safer to visit than Central Park.

The other day I talked to my friend, Mr. Arnold Hayter, who used to run Maya Trails. Now he runs Hayter Travel Service. He said it was absolutely safe to run around Guatemala, day or night.

"The tourists are coming back," he said. "I'm sending three up to Chichicastenango in the morning."

Both United Fruit Company and Pan American Airways are plugging hard for a return of the Yankee dollar, Two and a half million dollars was the annual tourist crop before the recent revolution.

Now the country is quiet again. The determined American tourist with his cameras and light meters is on the highways. And Maria's basket of flowers will soon be exchanged for bright quarters.

Guatemala is a lovely country to visit. There is no Indian culture so pure. The village Maya dresses in hand-woven pinks and greens and purples. Each village has its own design.

A Maya considers this dress as obligatory as a Londoner considers the rolled umbrella and the hard hat.

Guatemala City has fair hotels. Personally I prefer the Palace. But in any hotel, be sure they give you a back room. The city is built Spanish style—squared off walls right down to the street.

In these narrow streets, the Guatemalans run the loudest motorcycles in the world. This pop-popping backfire bounces between the walls and winds up in your balconied room. It is like living next to a machine gun.

You get to Guatemala by several routes. United Fruit runs boats through the Caribbean or down the West Coast.

By air, you fly Pan American direct from Los Angeles. Or from the East, you pick up a Pan American flight at Houston, Texas. Eight hours lands you in Guatemala City. High, naturally air-conditioned, clean.

There is very little night life. El Gallito has marimba music and a certain number of friendly and unattached ladies.

The restaurants are not much. I think Triana is the best. It has a Spanish bullfighter background.

Prices are not high, but not low either. The Guatemalan quetzal exchanges equally with the American dollar. You get just as much American silver mixed in your change as Guatemalan.

American cigarettes are so covered with duty that you can't find them for sale. There is a local brand called "Club" that is possible. Just possible.

People are friendly and not as excitable as the Mexicans. I doubt if you would get your pocket picked even if you were careless Bell boys may stand by for a tip. But usually you have to call them back if you don't have it ready in your hand.

The silver work is excellent. You can buy genuine antique figures from the Maya tombs. And if you have friends, you can go in the back room and see genuine modern Mayas making them. (You can't take the genuine stuff out of the country.)

Personally, I prefer Mexico. But Guatemala makes a restful side trip.

STAN DELAPLANE'S
POSTCARD

Maria who sells flowers outside the Hotel Pan American in Guatemala City said business was terrible.

"I worked all evening, without food. See how many flowers are left."

She had a basketful of Guatemalan roses and bunches of violets. She said she hoped the tourists would come back soon to the land of the Quetzal.

As a matter of fact, the tourists are drifting in again already. You can spot the tourist ladies because they all try to dress like Indians. The Guatemalan ladies all try to dress like tourists.

The tourist ladies clank with silver. They drip with tropical flowers. Their skirts are embroidered in Quetzaltenango. They are tanned by Antigua suns. They are a curious sight.

The American tourist is a fearless breed. The recent revolution is a passing show. His passport makes him bullet proof. Would anybody shoot a hole in a dollar bill? Don't be silly.

As a matter fact, Guatemala is a lot safer to visit than Central Park.

The other day I talked to my friend, Mr. Arnold Hayter, who used to run Maya Trails. Now he runs Hayter Travel Service. He said it was absolutely safe to run around Guatemala, day or night.

"The tourists are coming back," he said. "I'm sending three up to Chichicastenango in the morning."

Both United Fruit Company and Pan American Airways are plugging hard for a return of the Yankee dollar, Two and a half million dollars was the annual tourist crop before the recent revolution.

Now the country is quiet again. The determined American tourist with his cameras and light meters is on the highways. And Maria's basket of flowers will soon be exchanged for bright quarters.

Guatemala is a lovely country to visit. There is no Indian culture so pure. The village Maya dresses in hand-woven pinks and greens and purples. Each village has its own design.

A Maya considers this dress as obligatory as a Londoner considers the rolled umbrella and the hard hat.

Guatemala City has fair hotels. Personally I prefer the Palace. But in any hotel, be sure they give you a back room. The city is built Spanish style—squared off walls right down to the street.

In these narrow streets, the Guatemalans run the loudest motorcycles in the world. This pop-popping backfire bounces between the walls and winds up in your balconied room. It is like living next to a machine gun.

You get to Guatemala by several routes. United Fruit runs boats through the Caribbean or down the West Coast.

By air, you fly Pan American direct from Los Angeles. Or from the East, you pick up a Pan American flight at Houston, Texas. Eight hours lands you in Guatemala City. High, naturally air-conditioned, clean.

There is very little night life. El Gallito has marimba music and a certain number of friendly and unattached ladies.

The restaurants are not much. I think Triana is the best. It has a Spanish bullfighter background.

Prices are not high, but not low either. The Guatemalan quetzal exchanges equally with the American dollar. You get just as much American silver mixed in your change as Guatemalan.

American cigarettes are so covered with duty that you can't find them for sale. There is a local brand called "Club" that is possible. Just possible.

People are friendly and not as excitable as the Mexicans. I doubt if you would get your pocket picked even if you were careless Bell boys may stand by for a tip. But usually you have to call them back if you don't have it ready in your hand.

The silver work is excellent. You can buy genuine antique figures from the Maya tombs. And if you have friends, you can go in the back room and see genuine modern Mayas making them. (You can't take the genuine stuff out of the country.)

Personally, I prefer Mexico. But Guatemala makes a restful side trip.

'YES' FOR GOOD—

Ike To Face Insistent Demand He Run Again

By JACK BELL

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Eisenhower is going to face almost unanimous demands from Republican party organization leaders that he run again in 1956 despite any reluctance he may display on that score.

Although none of the delegates to the workshop conference of the Republican National Committee, which wound up sessions here, professed to know anything about the President's future plans, they left no doubt they want another "I-Like-Ike" campaign two years from now.

Some Sore Spots

There still are some sore spots in the Republican organization about patronage. Some Republicans are grumbling Eisenhower is too "liberal" — a complaint of which Vice President Nixon took public notice.

A few supporters and a few critics of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) don't like the way the President has handled the party problems presented by the senator.

Taft-Ike Rift Gone

But the 1952 preconvention cleavage between the backers of Eisenhower and of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft appears largely to have been closed. Former Taft men are just as enthusiastic in their talk about an Eisenhower candidacy in 1956 as are the leaders who urged Eisenhower into making the 1952 race.

One of these, National Committeeman Harry Darby of Kansas, said in an interview that so far as he is concerned there just isn't any other Republican candidate on the horizon for the next presidential race.

'Yes' For Good

He said if Eisenhower is reluctant to run again, the President is likely to find the party organization insistent he make the race.

"When the President said 'yes' in 1952 when we were trying to get him in the race, he said 'yes' for good," Darby observed. "He is going to find that the program which he started just can't be dropped or turned over to somebody else. He will have to be a candidate."

Eisenhower hasn't said publicly whether he has made up his mind but recently he handed his White House chief of staff, Sherman Adams, a backhanded rebuff by saying neither Adams nor anybody else had any sound basis for speculation on the matter.

Convicts, Aided By 'Grads,' Try To Escape Pen

KINGSTON, Jamacia (AP)—Police and prison guards battled convicts inside Jamacia's General Penitentiary and ex-convicts outside the walls in quelling an attempted breakout. Seventeen prisoners and two policemen were injured.

Former prison inmates dug into the high walls surrounding the penitentiary in their futile attempt to aid the prisoners to escape. Armed police squads rushed to the penitentiary as the trouble started were still standing by Thursday.

One prisoner was knifed in the neck by his fellow inmates, apparently because they believed he had informed on their escape bid.

Municipal Water System Approved

Lincoln Star Special

AVOCA, Neb. — Local residents have approved, 95 to 6, a $25,000 bond issue for construction of a municipal water system.

The town of about 200 persons previously has had no city water system and obtained water from private wells.

Bids for putting in the system will be let within the next three or four weeks, Council Chairman Elmer Hennings said.

The bonds will be paid off by water revenues over a period of 20 years.

Bell's 'Yankton' Rates Approved

The State Railway Commission announced Thursday it has approved Northwestern Bell Telephone Company's suggested rate schedule for subscribers served out of the Yankton, S.D. exchange but living in Nebraska.

The Nebraska rates under the schedule are identical with rates for comparable service to subscribers on the South Dakota side.

Elkhorn rural public power district, Battle Creek, Neb., was authorized to build, operate and maintain certain electric lines in Madison, Antelope, Pierce, Wayne, Stanton, Platte, Boone, Wheeler and Holt Counties.

Applications of the Omaha Public Power District for certain power line changes and extensions in Sarpy and Douglas Counties were approved, along with an application of the Consumers Public Power District of Columbus to build an short segment of line north of York, Neb.

Final Canvassing Session Delayed

The State Canvassing Board's final session to canvass votes from Nebraska's Aug. 10 primary election will not be held until Friday, the secretary of state's office said Thursday.

Final reports from two counties still were awaited, Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke said.

All counties previously had submitted their vote counting reports but several reports had to be returned for revisions and corrections.

University Tests Prove Glass Jars Ideal for Use in Home and Locker Freezing

3-Year Study Reveals Important Advantages of Home Canning Jars in Freezing Fruits, Vegetables, Meat and Poultry

What may come as a surprise and amount to a new discovery to many people, is seen in the striking advantages of glass jars for the home freezing of foods, as established by recent findings at the University of Massachusetts (Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station, Bulletin No. 465, June, 1952).*

While glass jars have long been familiar to home canners the country over, and have been used in the freezing of foods for several years, the fact that they are equally well suited for the latter purpose has not been widely known. These findings establish a number of essential characteristics and properties for a satisfactory package for home and locker frozen foods, all of which are afforded by regular home canning glass jars.

Glass containers have the advantage of being moisture-vapor proof, which prevents freezer burn or the drying of foods. They are likewise leak-proof, preventing dripping of syrup. Glass containers have the further value of protecting foods from absorbing and giving off flavors and odors. They do not impart flavor or odor to the food, nor do they absorb grease, oil or water. Still another advantage of glass containers is that they are [illegible] and may be re-used many times as they [illegible] in home canning. [illegible] other types of containers [illegible] glass is always clean, never messy, does not stick to foods and contents are easily identified even without a label. All these advantages add up to a perfect container for the freezing of foods in home freezer cabinets, freezer lockers and in the freezer compartments of refrigerators.

NO BREAKAGE

Some people have questioned the use of glass jars for freezing because of a supposed tendency to break at low temperatures. Not so, says the University's Bulletin: "Technically speaking, there is no available evidence to the effect that the brittleness of such containers is increased at freezing temperatures."

Economy and convenience are other advantages to be realized by the use of glass containers for freezing foods. This is particularly true, it is pointed out, of home canners who are beginning to employ freezing as a means of food preservation, either entirely or as a supplementary method.

ATLAS JARS

ATLAS Jars have been used for more than fifty years by home canners. These jars have all the advantages noted in the University Bulletin.

In addition, ATLAS Jars are double tested for strength and individually inspected for clearness and perfect workmanship. They come in all sizes and, with ATLAS Arc-Lids, make a perfect package for freezing as well as canning.

FREE INSTRUCTIONS, RECIPES

Complete instructions for successful home freezing as well as helpful hints and special recipes are available in a [illegible] illustrated folder which can be obtained free upon request to Hazel-Atlas Glass Company, Dept. D, Wheeling, West Virginia.

*Cooperation in this research was given by the Hazel-Atlas Glass Company, Wheeling, West Virginia.

But the 1952 preconvention cleavage between the backers of Eisenhower and of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft appears largely to have been closed. Former Taft men are just as enthusiastic in their talk about an Eisenhower candidacy in 1956 as are the leaders who urged Eisenhower into making the 1952 race.

One of these, National Committeeman Harry Darby of Kansas, said in an interview that so far as he is concerned there just isn't any other Republican candidate on the horizon for the next presidential race.

'Yes' For Good

He said if Eisenhower is reluctant to run again, the President is likely to find the party organization insistent he make the race.

"When the President said 'yes' in 1952 when we were trying to get him in the race, he said 'yes' for good," Darby observed. "He is going to find that the program which he started just can't be dropped or turned over to somebody else. He will have to be a candidate."

Eisenhower hasn't said publicly whether he has made up his mind but recently he handed his White House chief of staff, Sherman Adams, a backhanded rebuff by saying neither Adams nor anybody else had any sound basis for speculation on the matter.

Convicts, Aided By 'Grads,' Try To Escape Pen

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Police and prison guards battled convicts inside Jamaica's General Penitentiary and ex-convicts outside the walls in quelling an attempted breakout. Seventeen prisoners and two policemen were injured.

Former prison inmates dug into the high walls surrounding the penitentiary in their futile attempt to aid the prisoners to escape. Armed police squads rushed to the penitentiary as the trouble started were still standing by Thursday.

One prisoner was knifed in the neck by his fellow inmates, apparently because they believed he had informed on their escape bid.

Municipal Water System Approved

Lincoln Star Special

AVOCA, Neb. — Local residents have approved, 95 to 6, a $25,000 bond issue for construction of a municipal water system.

The town of about 200 persons previously has had no city water system and obtained water from private wells.

Bids for putting in the system will be let within the next three or four weeks, Council Chairman Elmer Hennings said.

The bonds will be paid off by water revenues over a period of 20 years.

Bell's 'Yankton' Rates Approved

The State Railway Commission announced Thursday it has approved Northwestern Bell Telephone Company's suggested rate schedule for subscribers served out of the Yankton, S.D. exchange but living in Nebraska.

The Nebraska rates under the schedule are identical with rates for comparable service to subscribers on the South Dakota side.

Elkhorn rural public power district, Battle Creek, Neb., was authorized to build, operate and maintain certain electric lines in Madison, Antelope, Pierce, Wayne, Stanton, Platte, Boone, Wheeler and Holt Counties.

Applications of the Omaha Public Power District for certain power line changes and extensions in Sarpy and Douglas Counties were approved, along with an application of the Consumers Public Power District of Columbus to build an short segment of line north of York, Neb.

Final Canvassing Session Delayed

The State Canvassing Board's final session to canvass votes from Nebraska's Aug. 10 primary election will not be held until Friday, the secretary of state's office said Thursday.

Final reports from two counties still were awaited, Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke said.

All counties previously had submitted their vote counting reports but several reports had to be returned for revisions and corrections.

3-Year Study Reveals Important Advantages of Home Canning Jars in Freezing Fruits, Vegetables, Meat and Poultry

What may come as a surprise and amount to a new discovery to many people, is seen in the striking advantages of glass jars for the home freezing of foods, as established by recent findings at the University of Massachusetts (Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station, Bulletin No. 465, June, 1952).*

While glass jars have long been familiar to home canners the country over, and have been used in the freezing of foods for several years, the fact that they are equally well suited for the latter purpose has not been widely known. These findings establish a number of essential characteristics and properties for a satisfactory package for home and locker frozen foods, all of which are afforded by regular home canning glass jars:

Glass containers have the advantage of being moisture-vapor-proof, which prevents freezer burn or the drying of foods. They are likewise leak-proof, preventing dripping of syrup. Glass containers have the further value of protecting foods from absorbing and giving off flavors and odors. They do not impart flavor or odor to the food, nor do they absorb grease, oil or water. Still another advantage of glass containers is that they are durable and may be re-used many times as they generally are in home canning. Then, too, unlike other types of containers and packaging, glass is always clean, never messy, does not stick to foods and contents are easily identified even without a label. All these advantages add up to a perfect container for the freezing of foods in home freezer cabinets, freezer lockers and in the freezer compartments of refrigerators.

NO BREAKAGE

Some people have questioned the use of glass jars for freezing because of a supposed tendency to break at low temperatures. Not so, says the University's Bulletin: "Technically speaking, there is no available evidence to the effect that the brittleness of such containers is increased at freezing temperatures."

Economy and convenience are other advantages to be realized by the use of glass containers for freezing foods. This is particularly true, it is pointed out, of home canners who are beginning to employ freezing as a means of food preservation, either entirely or as a supplementary method.

ATLAS JARS

ATLAS Jars have been used for more than fifty years by home canners. These jars have all the advantages noted in the University Bulletin.

In addition, ATLAS Jars are double tested for strength and individually inspected for clearness and perfect workmanship. They come in all sizes and, with ATLAS Arc-Lids, make a perfect package for freezing as well as canning.

FREE INSTRUCTIONS, RECIPES

Complete instructions for successful home freezing, as well as helpful hints and special recipes are available in a profusely illustrated folder which may be obtained free upon request to Hazel-Atlas Glass Company, Dept. D., Wheeling, West Virginia.

'M'CARTHY BLAST BEATEN—

Legion Urges Full Probe Power

WASHINGTON (AP) – The American Legion beat down a move aimed at criticizing Sen McCarthy Thursday and instead proposed that Congress give his and other communist - hunting committees full power and funds to continue their investigations.

McCarthy was not mentioned by name but it was apparent from the heated discussion that swirled around the proposals that it was the Wisconsin senator and his committee who were principally involved.

The formal action taken by the Legionnaires at their 36th annual convention would provide McCarthy's committee, the Senate Internal Security (Jenner) subcommittee, House Un-American Activities (Velde) committee and other Red hunting groups the same powers they now hold and enough funds to keep up their work.

The convention's overwhelming vote was to recommend strongly "the continuation of these committees with no limitation of their present powers and with ample funds for their proper function.

John B. Barnard, Legionnaire from Granby, Colo, a town a few miles from where President Eisenhower is fishing, proposed an amendment that would put the legion on record as affirming its opposition to any methods "which violate the traditional American concepts of due process of law, which are abusive of witnesses."

Out Of Order

Barnard also wanted the Legion to go on record against committees which do not follow good "administrative practices and proper procedure."

Barnard said "if we support these methods, we abandon the very thing we are fighting to sustain, the Constitution of America."

The amendment was ruled out of order The presiding officer, Dr Edward Reed, national vice commander, held it was not applicable to the main resolution.

Barnard retorted this would mean "killing our resolution by a parliamentary maneuver"

He asked for a convention vote to sustain his right to introduce the amendment. The voice vote was close and the chair announced Barnard's move had been defeated.

C. L. Shaver Dies; Sparked Democrat Boom For Davis

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP)—Clement L. Shaver, the man credited with sparking the 1924 Democratic convention boom for John W. Davis after the famed Smith-McAdoo standoff, died at 87

Shaver, as Democratic national chairman in 1924 managed the unsuccessful Davis campaign against Calvin Coolidge. Davis' running mate was Charles W. Bryan, one-time Nebraska governor

Shaver was credited with being instrumental in launching the boom which brought the Democratic nomination of Davis for president after the deadlock between Alfred E. Smith and William Gibbs McAdoo at the New York party convention in 1924.

Candidate Gift Ruling Given

The Nebraska attorney general held Thursday that a candidate for public office can give away an advertising gift as long as it is not given as compensation for a vote or the promise of a vote.

The opinion had been asked by Ross D. Druliner Jr., of Benkelman, the Dundy County Attorney.

State law says it is unlawful for a candidate to "pay out, give, contribute or expend or offer or agree to pay, give, contribute or expend any money or other valuable thing as compensation for a vote or votes or the promise of a vote or votes. . ."

The term, "valuable thing," covers most everything, the opinion by Attorney General Clarence Beck and Assistant Attorney General C C Sheldon noted. The ruling factor thus becomes the question of whether the gift was in fact a compensation for a vote or the promise of a vote.

"In our opinion, gifts by a candidate, regardless of the value thereof, which are made solely for the purpose of generally advertising and promoting the donor's candidacy, and not as compensation for a vote or the promise of a vote for the candidate, do not come within the purview of the statute," the opinion said, "except as concerns 'drinks, cigars or other refreshments," the giving away of which is expressly prohibited, even though not given as compensation for a vote or promise of a vote."

Report Says U.S., Canada To Confer On Missile Screen

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Star said Thursday in a Windsor dispatch that conferences are scheduled to open soon between Canadian and U. S. officials on establishment of a screen of guided missle stations in southern Ontario

The U S government already has started construction on at least one such guided missle station across the St Clair River from Windsor, the story said, and plans are under way for "a considerable number as the basis for a screen for the Detroit-Windsor area."

Tepner Spends $1,054 In Bid

Jesse F. Tepner of Creighton spent $1,054.97 in his unsuccessful bid for the Democratic Third District Congressional nomination in the recent Nebraska primary, according to his report filed with the secretary of state Thursday.

Samuel Freeman of Hubbell, who unsuccessfully opposed Frank B Morrison of McCook for the First District Democratic Congressional nomination, listed expenses of $30, including the $10 filing fee and $20 for advertising.

The Heaton for governor committee, which pushed the unsuccessful Democratic gubernatorial candidacy of P. J. Heaton of Sidney, reported receipts of $925 and expenses of $2,415.47

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

The sword shall be beaten into the plowshare, the farmer will beat the mule that pulls it and there will be barbed wire on the play pens in the nursery.

How doth the juggadier flourish that he hypothecates his retirement pay in hopeful tinkering? Schickelgruber turned the clocks back in 1930. Our general pushes 'em 50 years ahead. It doesn't change the works a bit.

Let's index tha agenda for his hawk-eyed scouting. There are two ways to perpetual peace by 2004. Some geographical plotter will erase the parallel.. Or our teen-aged gangs will grow up.

The clock has no more to do with it than you have with the speed of light. In those 50 evaporating years man can bomb himself into pulverized slag-heaps.

Hiroshima proves we can lick ourselves into well-earned oblivion like a cat with a sand-paper tongue.

Fifty years is a long time to cash a promissory note on an unfunded conjecture. If wishes are hosses somebody has to pay for the oats.

We would like to endorse the general using another wild guess for collateral. We're tired of hearing baritones sing Danny Deever.

Who's for a capillary tremor or two with the general's twitchful thinking? Is there a better way to grow gracefully out of the draft age?

Late Selling Mixes Grain List Closes

CHICAGO (AP) — A late selloff brought a mixed close to grains on the Board of Trade Thursday after the market had presented a nice show of strength in early dealings

Most wheat futures managed to hold onto small fractional gains as did oats. But rye ended lower, after all contracts had set new seasonal highs early and so did corn and soybeans. The September contracts of the latter two cereals were particularly weak.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ⅝ higher corn ¾-1⅞ lower oats ⅛-½ higher rye ⅛-1 lower, soybeans ⅛ to 3 cents lower and lard 2 cents lower to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher

CYO Leader Bishop Sheil Resigns Post

CHICAGO (INS) Bishop Bernard J Sheil resigned unexpectedly Thursday as director general of the Catholic Youth Organization which he founded in 1930

Neither the bishop nor Samuel Cardinal Stritch head of the Chicago Roman Catholic archdiocese, would give a reason for the resignation at a news conference summoned to discuss the CYO founder's action

Bishop Sheil smiling grimly as he posed shaking hands with Cardinal Stritch at CYO headquarters later talked with reporters alone and denied

1 That his resignation had any connection with his recent attack on Sen Joseph R McCarthy Wisconsin Republican whom he once dubbed a 'headline hunter '

2 That he resigned because of any criticism of his liberal views and outspokenness as the 'friend of the downtrodden "

Firmly he added

This is absolutely my last word on the subject

Successor Named

Sheil senior auxiliary bishop of the archdiocese conferred with Cardinal Stritch at the CYO office privately for 10 minutes Then Cardinal Stritch announced that Monsignor Edward J Kelly would succeed Sheil and that the bishop would continue at president and chairman of the CYO Corp

The prelate conceived his idea for a character building organization for underprivileged youth while serving as a prison chaplain in 1919

Two years after he was elevated to the church hierarchy in 1928 Bishop Sheil sponsored his first boxing matches for youths—proceeds of which were used to finance the CYO

Since then the CYO has benefited some 5 000.000 youths in the United States and Canada and has spread its activities to include educational and social services as well as recreational

122,000 More Nebraskans Under Revamped Social Security Program

By MARILYN K SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

More than 122 045 Nebraskans will come under the coverage of Social Security for the first time according to new amendments made to the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance program.

Covered under the new act, signed into law by President Eisenhower Wednesday, will be the state's 100 000 farm operators, approximately 20,000 farm hands, 1 374 engineers, 376 licensed funeral directors, and 305 professional architects Figures were not available for the number of accountants and professional fishermen in the state, who are also included under the new act

According to J. S. Sewall, OASI Lincoln district manager, the farm operators number the largest group of gainfully employed persons not heretofore covered by Social Security Beginning Jan. 1, 1955, they will be covered on the same terms as other self-employed persons, except for special provisions under certain conditions for figuring the amount of their annual net earnings

The coverage also extends to those operators of custom farm practices Sewall said, such as operators of combine crews

In addition to the special groups mentioned above, state and local government employees up to now excluded because they were covered under other retirement programs, can come under Social Security by referendum. Ministers and Christian Science practitioners may come under the act voluntarily

In Nebraska, this group would include such divisions as the school systems, the University of Nebraska, the Geneva Training School, and others.

Under the new act, such divisions could be covered if a majority of the eligible voters vote in favor of Social Security by written, secret ballots. The governing body also must favor Social Security coverage.

Ninety days' notice must be given the eligible voters before the referendum is held. The governor then certifies the vote to the OASI office.

Sewall said the referendum would be a strictly local matter as far as his office would be concerned. The governor, or his appointed representative, would be in charge of the referendum.

At the present time, Sewall said 43,835 Nebraskans are receiving OASI benefits amounting to a total of $1,746,340. With the automatic increase guaranteed by the new act, the benefits total will be boosted to $1,978,105.

In the 17 counties in southeast Nebraska served by the Lincoln district office, about 11,600 persons will receive their August benefit checks on Friday, totaling $460,000. With the automatic increase effective Sept 1, the September checks, mailed Oct. 3, will total $520,000—an increase of $60,000 or about 14 per cent in the payments in this district.

Sewall emphasized that the increases in benefits are automatic; beneficiaries do not need to apply to the district office for them. The rest of the new provisions in the act go into effect on Jan. 1, 1955

Late Selling Mixes Grain List Closes

CHICAGO (AP) — A late selloff brought a mixed close to grains on the Board of Trade Thursday after the market had presented a nice show of strength in early dealings.

Most wheat futures managed to hold onto small fractional gains, as did oats. But rye ended lower, after all contracts had set new seasonal highs early, and so did corn and soybeans. The September contracts of the latter two cereals were particularly weak.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, corn ¾-1⅝ lower, oats ⅛-½ higher, rye ½-1½ lower, soybeans ¼ to 3 cents lower and lard 2 cents lower to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Stock Mart Rises In Quiet Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—In a very quiet way, the stock market advanced Thursday and some issues managed to post good gains.

It was the second straight session of advancing prices since the sharp break Tuesday. Neither day, however, uncovered any great buying enthusiasm.

There were many instances of prices going up between one and four points. That high level wasn't very crowded.

The best acting of the major divisions were the steels, railroads, utilities, oils, nonferrous metals, chemicals and aircrafts. The farm implements and building materials were depressed.

The market no whas been in a reaction from a 25-year peak for nearly two weeks with three out of nine markets advancing.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks added 70 cents at $130.50. It was up 90 cents Wednesday and dropped $2.00 Tuesday.

The industrial component of the average gained $1.20, rails were up 40 cents, and the utilties added 20 cents.

Volume dropped to the lowest point since mid-June at 1,600,000 shares. Business amounted to 1,790,000 shares Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange made easy progress on volume of 570,000 shares. That compares with 490,000 shares traded Wednesday.

CYO Leader Bishop Sheil Resigns Post

CHICAGO (INS) — Bishop Bernard J. Sheil resigned unexpectedly Thursday as director general of the Catholic Youth Organization which he founded in 1930.

Neither the bishop nor Samuel Cardinal Stritch, head of the Chicago Roman Catholic archdiocese, would give a reason for the resignation at a news conference summoned to discuss the CYO founder's action.

Bishop Sheil, smiling grimly as he posed shaking hands with Cardinal Stritch at CYO headquarters, later talked with reporters alone and denied:

1. That his resignation had any connection with his recent attack on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican whom he once dubbed a "headline hunter."

2. That he resigned because of any criticism of his liberal views and outspokenness as the "friend of the downtrodden."

Firmly, he added:

"This is absolutely my last word on the subject."

Successor Named

Shiel, senior auxiliary bishop of the archdiocese, conferred with Cardinal Stritch at the CYO office privately for 10 minutes. Then Cardinal Stritch announced that Monsignor Edward J. Kelly would succeed Sheil and that the bishop would continue at president and chairman of the CYO Corp.

The prelate conceived his idea for a character-building organization for underprivileged youth while serving as a prison chaplain in 1919.

Two years after he was elevated to the church hierarchy in 1928, Bishop Sheil sponsored his first boxing matches for youths—proceeds of which were used to finance the CYO.

Since then the CYO has benefited some 5,000,000 youths in the United States and Canada and has spread its activities to include educational and social services as well as recreational.

122,000 More Nebraskans Under Revamped Social Security Program

By MARILYN K. SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

More than 122,045 Nebraskans will come under the coverage of Social Security for the first time according to new amendments made to the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance program.

Covered under the new act, signed into law by President Eisenhower Wednesday, will be the state's 100,000 farm operators, approximately 20,000 farm hands, 1,374 engineers, 376 licensed funeral directors, and 305 professional architects. Figures were not available for the number of accountants and professional fishermen in the state, who are also included under the new act.

According to J. S. Sewall, OASI Lincoln district manager, the farm operators number the largest group of gainfully employed persons not heretofore covered by Social Security. Beginning Jan. 1, 1955, they will be covered on the same terms as other self-employed persons, except for special provisions under certain conditions for figuring the amount of their annual net earnings.

The coverage also extends to those operators of custom farm practices, Sewall said, such as operators of combine crews.

In addition to the special groups mentioned above, state and local government employees, up to now excluded because they were covered under other retirement programs, can come under Social Security by referendum. Ministers and Christian Science practitioners may come under the act voluntarily.

In Nebraska, this group would include such divisions as the school systems, the University of Nebraska, the Geneva Training School, and others.

Under the new act, such divisions could be covered if a majority of the eligible voters vote in favor of Social Security by written, secret ballots. The governing body also must favor Social Security coverage.

Ninety days' notice must be given the eligible voters before the referendum is held. The governor then certifies the vote to the OASI office.

Sewall said the referendum would be a strictly local matter as far as his office would be concerned. The governor, or his appointed representative, would be in charge of the referendum.

At the present time, Sewall said 43,835 Nebraskans are receiving OASI benefits amounting to a total of $1,746,340. With the automatic increase guaranteed by the new act, the benefits total will be boosted to $1,978,105.

In the 17 counties in southeast Nebraska served by the Lincoln district office, about 11,600 persons will receive their August benefit checks on Friday, totaling $460,000. With the automatic increase effective Sept. 1, the September checks, mailed Oct. 3, will total $520,000—an increase of $60,000 or about 14 per cent in the payments in this district.

Sewall emphasized that the increases in benefits are automatic; beneficiaries do not need to apply to the district office for them. The rest of the new provisions in the act go into effect on Jan. 1, 1955.

Auxiliary Chief Gets A 'Parole'

. . . Install Mrs. Lainson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warden Percy A. Lainson of the Iowa State Penitentiary has given his wife "a year's parole" from running the house to serve as president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Lainson

"Yes, I guess that is what you would call it — parole," laughed Mrs. Lainson, who was installed Thursday as head of the organization of nearly one million women. She succeeds Mrs. Harold Burdett, Brooklyn, N.Y.

She is a trim, tiny woman, gray-haired and merry-eyed. For this special occasion she wore a black tafetta dress with a bouffant skirt and "my new Paris hat and shoes."

A gala homecoming is being planned for Mrs. Lainson Sept. 9 in Council Bluffs.

Hurricane Dolly Loses Its Destructive Force

WASHINGTON (INS) — The weather bureau reported Thursday that hurricane Dolly, the fourth of the season, has blown itself out to sea and apparently lost its destructive force.

Demo Candidates Rip Republican Policies

Lincoln Star Special

HASTINGS, Neb. — Nebraska's Democratic candidates Thursday fired lusty salvos at Republican Party policies.

Other major candidates in addition to James Green of Omaha delivered speeches.

Green, four-year Senate term candidate, gave the keynote address.

Keith Neville of North Platte, the nominee for U.S Senator, told the delegates about the recent GOP meeting in Cincinnati where, after hours of discussion, they come up with a slogan·

"Peace, Progress and Prosperity."

Neville said, "The peace part of our program consisted of several divisions of American soldiers in Korea to restrain our allies from resuming hostilities" He said that were it not for the failure of Winston Churchill to go along with American policy, our troops would be fighting today in Indo-China.

Neville added that the progress the GOP party claims is one of "distinction without material difference," and referred to the speech of President Eisenhower at the American Legion convention as an example Eisenhower, he said, opposed universal military training but wanted to have every male trained and in a reserve unit.

For the prosperity part of the slogan, Neville recommended that inquiry be made of Nebraska farmers. On the farm problem, Neville said the marginal farms which Secretary of Agriculture Benson seeks to take out of production are those "not as efficient as General Motors."

Frank Morrison of McCook, candidate for congress from the First District, opened his remarks by asking, "How many of you know that Nebraska is one of the five states to lose income last year?"

He said that Nebraska was the only agricultural state where the delegation in Congress voted solidly for the Benson flexible price support plan He paid tribute to former Senator Dwight Griswold as the only member of the delegation with courage to vote for his own state and against the Tidelands oil bill

He predicted that a tremendous amount of money would be expended by Republicans in Nebraska this fall, and said Eisenhower's talk in McCook Saturday is only the beginning of the Republican drive.

Ernest Luther, condidate for Congress from the Third District, summed up his remarks by saying, "If elected, I will never vote for legislation of any kind that will lower the income of farm families on which the economy of Nebraska rests"

James A Hart of Omaha, 2nd Congressional District candidate, declared

"Republican do-nothing economic policies are resulting in a shameful waste of our human resources

The contraction of our business life in the past 18 months has forced a sharp increase in the number of people on direct relief

"With restricted job opportunities, many of our fellow citizens have no alternative but to go on relief."

Demos Seek Extension Of Extra Gas Tax

From Press Dispatches

HASTINGS, Neb —The Nebraska Democratic Party Thursday adopted a platform recommending extension for two more years the extra penny-a-gallon state gasoline tax voted by the 1953 Legislature.

The party also recommended continuation of the present Motor vehicle registration fee schedule.

The condition of Nebraska highways requires extension of the present highway revenue program, the Democrats said

The platform recommended repeal of the present limit on legislative expense and urged that votes in legislative committees on reporting bills to the floor be published

On national and international questions, the platform had these things to say

Foreign Policy—"We indorse the Truman Doctrine and the Four Point program. We support the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Organization of American States, and the United Nations."

Reciprocal Trade Agreements—"Republican piece-meal extension and emergency suspensions of rates have destroyed international confidence, deterred the efforts of our merchants, and have undermined the wholesome movement for good will and peace among the co-operating nations"

Conservation of National Resources—"We condemn the Republican give-away program of the people's national resources"

Water and Power —"We pledge our support to federally sponsored expansion of multiple-purpose conservation independent of state compacts which can only endanger the effective expansion, use, and administration of our resources"

Farm Program —"The Benson program endangers not only the well-being of the farmer but the balanced economy which alone can sustain our high-level prosperity."

Labor —"We endorse the principles of equal pay for equal work, regardless of color, creed, sex, or geographical location."

Social Security —"The present administration is endorsing practices that its party designated as the 'dole,' and we commend them in their belated conversion."

Education —"The quality of the work offered in our tax supported institutions should be scrutinized constantly and improved."

Millionth Ford For This Year Is Due Today

DETROIT, (INS) — Automotive News reported that Ford division will turn out its millionth car of the year Friday, two months ahead of its 1953 counterpart. Chevrolet's millionth car of 1954 was made last Friday.

With Chrysler Corp. down for model changeovers, General Motors and Ford produced 96.9 per cent of the U. S. car total this week—63 per cent by G.M. and 33.9 by Ford

The trade newspaper estimated U.S. makers will produce 92,165 cars and 16,510 trucks this week compared with 93,649 cars and 17,545 trucks last week.

Bicyclist Bruised In Auto Collision

Selmar Griffin, 13 was treated for minor bruises and a general shaking up after he was knocked from his bicycle when he came in collision with a car on P St between 10th and 11th

Son of Mrs Margaret Griffin of 2035 M, the youth was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for a checkup and released.

Driver of the car, who was backing from the curb was Walter R. Graham, 55, of 2626 C

Guilty Plea Is Entered On Bad Check Charge

Clyde E Sherwood Jr., 27, of 900 So. 23rd, pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to a no-account check charge.

Sherwood was charged with issuing a $5 no-account check to a Lincoln service station Aug. 16, 1954, with intent to defraud.

Judge Harry Spencer deferred sentencing pending an investigation by the adult probation officer.

Approval Of Route Change Is Sought

West Nebraska Express, Inc., a Scottsbluff trucking firm, filed with the State Supreme Court Thursday a brief asking the court to uphold the State Railway Commission's order granting the company a route change in serving Alliance.

The Scottsbluff firm had been granted permission, in operating between Omaha and Western Nebraska, to leave U. S. Highway 30 at Grand Island on its westward route and reach Alliance via Nebraska Highway No. 2, instead of continuing on Highway 30. This would save 78 miles per round trip and involve a less heavily travelled highway, the company contended.

The approval of this application was appealed to the State Supreme Court by George and James Pirnie, Broken Bow brothers who own and operate Arrow Freight Lines.
